Married At First Sight Chapter 3502-Carrie added, “When I saw the stand-in, I thought she was my twin sister. Her body shape, face, and voice are all very similar.”

Carrie believed that two unrelated people could look so alike. She had never met the stand-in before. When they first met, they were both shocked, thinking their parents had other children.

For this, Carrie feared Mr. Labbe even more. In just a few days, he had found a stand-in who learned Carrie’s habits and speech perfectly.

“Does your sister really have no doubts?” Mr. Labbe asked. He was satisfied with his choice but knew Camryn was smart. Despite being blind for ten years, Camryn was sharp and observant. Was it so easy for her to believe the stand-in was Carrie?

“There is no doubt at all. Even the voices match. Why would she doubt?”

Carrie was suspected before because she hadn’t learned to change her voice, which made Camryn and Serenity suspicious.

“It’s only once, so we can’t be sure. If you act out the scenes a few more times and she still has no doubts, then she believes it,” Mr. Labbe cautioned. “There are many smart people around Camryn. Be careful they don’t catch on that you’re using a stand-in.”

Carrie smiled, “Mr. Labbe, you’re too cautious. Camryn and I have been sisters for over 20 years. I know her well. If she suspected it wasn’t me, she wouldn’t bother to pay attention. But to ease your worries, we’ll act out more scenes. By the way, she angered Callum and was slapped a few times by the York family bodyguards. She wants compensation. You can decide how much and transfer the money to me.”

Mr. Labbe said, “After you two agree on the amount, let me know, and I’ll give it to you.”

Carrie, seeing an opportunity to make some money, smiled, “That’s fine. I’ll talk to her when I get home. Just a few hundred dollars per slap.”

Mr. Labbe said, “No matter the amount, as long as you think it’s worth it. You performed well today. I’ll transfer some money to your account for you to buy some jewelry or bags, whatever you like.”

Hearing this, Carrie sweetly thanked him, “Thank you, Mr. Labbe, I will work harder.”

“Keep up the good work and try to gain Serenity’s trust and become her friend soon.” Mr. Labbe wanted Carrie to infiltrate Serenity’s circle before the New Year. Serenity might meet Jane at a party, and they could confirm whether Jane’s adopted son was the one Mr. Labbe was looking for. He couldn’t rest easy until he found the boy and reclaimed what belonged to the family head.

Even as the acting head of the family, he could never become the real head. Despite all he had done, this was the result, and he was unwilling to accept it!
