

Married At First Sight Chapter 3530

Married At First Sight Chapter 3530 – Callum left the company happily and went to Camryn to be affectionate.

He hoped that Evan would come to him for help every day, so that he could catch him to help him do things every day.

Evan: "..."

At the same time, in the Stone family.

Leland was accompanied by one of the most powerful apprentices of Silver Fox, Finnegan.

Finnegan was not very old, about the same age as Duncan. He was a very serious person, with eyes as sharp as knives. If you were stared at by him for a few times, you would tremble in your heart.

"Mom, this is the evidence collected by Grandpa Jimenez. I found it where Grandpa Jimenez said."

Leland handed the evidence he brought back to Audrey.

Audrey did not look at it immediately after taking it but handed the evidence to Uncle Jimenez first.

The evidence collected by Uncle Jimenez was well protected by him. After decades, the handwriting and other things can still be clearly seen.

"Uncle Jimenez, do you see these things?"

Audrey said in a gentle voice.

Uncle Jimenez took out his reading glasses and put them on before taking the things and opening the box. After looking through them one by one, he hummed, "These are the evidences I collected. There are not many, but they can point to Clarissa."

Uncle Jimenez handed the box to Audrey and said, "Audrey, take a look. See if these are enough?"

Audrey took the box and looked through the letters, old photos, and some other things inside. She said to Uncle Jimenez, "No matter if they are enough, we can kill her as long as we go there. She knows it very well; otherwise, she wouldn't know that we met. She was nervous and scared, and turned to want to kill Liberty."

If Kathryn hadn't tipped her off, Liberty would have been in great danger.

Audrey had a complicated feeling about Kathryn.

She was her cousin, but the age difference was too great. Kathryn was old enough to be her daughter.

The two of them didn't have sisterly love, but it was true that they admired each other.

Unfortunately, Kathryn's biological mother killed Audrey's parents.

The two cousins had an irreconcilable hatred.

Kathryn did those things, firstly because of her values, and secondly because she was actually helping her mother to atone for her sins. She also wanted to end the hatred in her generation.

She didn't want it to extend to the next generation.

Her mother was wrong, and she didn't want to make the same mistake again. She couldn't do anything that would harm her own sisters for fame and profit.

"Uncle Jimenez, can you hold on?" Audrey asked with concern.

She needed to take Uncle Jimenez to confront Clarissa in person.

But Uncle Jimenez was too old, and she was worried that he wouldn't be able to hold on.

"I'm fine. I won't let myself die without avenging the matriarch. Even if I die, I can't rest in peace."

For decades, Mr. Jimenez has suffered too much pain. He has survived until now thanks to the efforts of the old miracle doctor and his apprentice, as well as his strong will to survive.

He always told himself that he couldn't die, couldn't fall down, and had to live well, find the two young ladies, overthrow Clarissa, avenge the matriarch, and help the matriarch take back the position of matriarch and hand it over to Audrey. Only then would he have the face to meet the matriarch and be worthy of him.

Strictly speaking, he was negligent.

He was the assistant of the master and was supposed to protect her, but he failed to do so, which resulted in the master's car being tampered with and causing a car accident, killing everyone in the car. The psychological pressure he was carrying was enormous.
