

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 758 - 789

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 758-Seeing inis, Sean patted Kirk's shoulder. "She's just hanging out with Gwen.

Why are you so nervous?" Kirk frowned, remaining silent. The call still hadn't been accepted.

Sean asked, "Why don't I call Gwen?" When Sean saw that Kirk had no intention of stopping him, he called Gwen.

Gwen saw Sean's name appear on her phone and quickly looked at Caroline.

"Carol ... Caroline returned to her senses and also saw Sean's name on Gwen's phone.

"Gwen, you should answer the phone. I really don't want to talk to Kirk right now." "Okay." Gwen walked to the balcony and answered the phone.

"When the call connected, she heard Sean's gentle voice, "Why did you take so long to answer the phone?" Gwen glanced at Caroline, who was lying lifelessly on the bed, and felt annoyed. "Is something the matter?" Realizing that Gwen's tone sounded unfriendly, Sean was stunned.

He quickly glanced at Kirk and lowered his voice, "Isn't Caroline with you?" Gwen blinked. "She's in the bathroom. What's wrong?" Sean sighed, "Then, it's fine. When she comes out, ask her to call Kirk back. He misses her after not seeing her for a while." Gwen felt uncomfortable and quickly hung up the phone.

Sean didn't know what had happened. He thought Gwen was angry with him, so he felt aggrieved.

"What did she say?" Kirk asked.

"Oh, she said that Caroline went to the bathroom. I told you everything is fine." Sean patted Kirk on the shoulder. "You've been so nervous recently. You're becoming paranoid." Kirk frowned, not saying a word Meanwhile, Gwen ended the call and opened the balcony door to walk back into the room.

She felt distressed to see Caroline, who was still sitting on the bed. She stepped forward and hugged Caroline. "Oh, Carol..." Caroline buried her head in Gwen's arms. She braced herself to ask, "Did he ask me to call Kirk back?" "Yeah." Caroline buried her head in Gwen's arms again. Finally getting a little warmth, she said despondently, "Gwen, do you think he's really SY Group's president?" Gwen's heart fell apart when she heard Caroline's question. She understood what Caroline was thinking.

Her relationship with Kirk was so sincere. Her feelings for him were so intense that she didn't want to believe that he would lie to her.

She couldn't accept the fact that he had deceived her.

Besides, Kirk was still a Morrison. Therefore, she held on to the little hope she had, hoping to get a negative answer from an outsider.

"To be honest, Carol, I don't know, but ..." Gwen lowered her head. "I-If he is, what will you do?" Caroline pressed her temples and shook her head in confusion. She didn't know what to do.

Since they had been through so much, she still felt that Kirk wouldn't deceive her.

Even during that ridiculous ordeal with Daphne, she had still believed him. That was because she felt he wouldn't lie to her. But... If he really was Eddy's second uncle, that meant he had been deceiving her from the moment they had gotten married.

There was no point in being in a marriage filled with lies.

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 759-Michael was puzzled to see Caroline's text. "Why?" Caroline didn't give him a reason but insisted on getting the treatment the next day itself.

When Michael saw her message, he couldn't say anything else. After all, the one who was paying had the most say in this.

After deciding on a time for the appointment, Caroline finally found some peace within her panicked heart.

She sat limply in her chair. Now, she just had to wait for tomorrow to arrive.

Even after finishing the call with Caroline, Kirk still had a frown on his face. He did his work absentmindedly.

“Hang on, didn’t Caroline answer your call? Why are you still upset?” Sean asked in confusion.

Kirk said nothing in response. He simply looked at the ground gloomily.

Sean nudged him. Only then did Kirk look up at him.

Then, Sean noticed some emotions swirling in Kirk’s eyes, as if thoughts were brewing in his mind. “W–What’s wrong?” Kirk pinched the bridge of his nose. “Nothing.” “It doesn’t look like it.” Sean was worried.

“What happened?” Kirk let out a nervous breath. “I hope I’m just overthinking things.” Sean didn’t need much to know that it had something to do with Caroline. “Since you’re so worried, I’ll go with you to see her tomorrow. How about that?” He could also see Gwen in the process.

Kirk finally nodded. “Okay.” In that case, you should rest soon.” Judging from Kirk’s condition, he probably wouldn’t be able to keep working “Yeah.” Tonight was bound to be a sleepless night for Kirk.

Early the next day, Kirk got out of bed and called Sean.

Sean was still asleep. He said grumpily, “Come on, we don’t have to go so early.

It’s only 6:00 am.

Don’t worry. Caroline won’t go anywhere.” Kirk frowned at Sean’s words. “Hurry up and get out of bed. I’m going there now.” Having no other choice, Sean got up from his bed. After getting into Kirk’s car, he couldn’t help but complain.

“Kirk, I noticed you can never leave Caroline’s side. Tell me, will you go nuts if Caroline leaves you one day?” Kirk’s expression darkened at his words, and Sean felt his sleepiness fade away from fear.

Realizing that he had said something wrong, Sean hurriedly slapped himself.

“Kirk, don’t take my words to heart. There’s no way Caroline would leave you.” Kirk gripped the steering wheel. “I hope so.” Sean wanted to say something to comfort him, but when he saw his friend’s tense expression, he couldn’t say anything.

Just then, a car drove past them. However, both of them were lost in their thoughts. So they didn’t notice it.

In the car, Gwen asked in confusion, “Carol, why are you leaving in such a hurry? Didn’t we say we’ll go sightseeing for two days?” Caroline tightly gripped the hem of her clothes.

“I’m sorry, Gwen. Something came up on Dr. Caldwell’s end, and he asked me to come over, “Goodness. I can’t believe him. Why did he call you over all of a sudden?” Gwen frowned.

“Carol, there’s nothing wrong, right?” “Of course.” Caroline smiled lightly.

“Maybe he called me over to discuss my treatment plans. It will be fine.” “That’s good.” Gwen was finally relieved.

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 760-Soon, Gwen and Caroline arrived at Michael’s clinic. Gwen had originally planned to wait for Caroline outside the treatment room, but Caroline persuaded her to leave.

“I’ll just take a cab home. You should go home for now.” “Are you sure you’ll be fine?” “Dr. Caldwell wants to talk to me alone. I don’t know how long it will take, and I don’t know how long you’ll have to wait if you stay.” “Okay.” Gwen had no choice but to leave the clinic.

After watching Gwen leave, Caroline turned to Michael. “Let’s begin, Dr.

Caldwell.” Michael hesitated to say something.

Caroline smiled slightly. “I’ve already prepared myself.” “All right. In that case, come with me.” Michael led Caroline to a special treatment room.

The outer walls of this room were covered in iron. It looked heavily guarded.

Michael opened the door. Caroline saw a chair with a bunch of threatening looking equipment next to it.

“Sit down over there.” Michael kept close attention to the changes in Caroline’s expression. Seeing that the equipment didn’t frighten her, he sighed in relief.

Caroline followed Michael’s instructions and laid down on the chair, slowly closing her eyes.

Beside her, the nurse stepped forward and attached the equipment to various parts of Caroline’s body.

Although Caroline had mentally prepared herself, she still felt her heart skip at the bone-chilling feeling.

“Ms. Evans, please let go of all your distracting thoughts and go to sleep.

Imagine that you’re lying on the grassy plains. You’ll see a blue sky when you look up... Π As expected, Michael was a master in psychology. As soon as he looked at her, he found that Caroline had fallen into a deep sleep./ In her dreams, she seemed to be on the grass, as Michael has described. White clouds floated in the distance, and everything was quiet and beautiful.

1/2 She was breathing the fresh air, but at that moment, she heard the sound of lightning and thunder.

She was so frightened that she stood up and ran away.

However, the lightning and thunder were getting closer and closer, as if it were beside her.

Caroline wasn’t hallucinating because, in reality, Michael had turned on the equipment-the sound of rumbling spread throughout the room.

The nurse glanced at Caroline worriedly. Sweat began to appear on Caroline’s face. She obviously sensed the danger.

“Dr. Caldwell, does she really have to do this?” the nurse asked in distress. She looked at Caroline, who was about the same age as her.

Michael sighed helplessly. "I don't have much of a choice. This is what the patient requested." At this moment, Gwen realized she had been deceived. She arrived at the parking lot almost at the same time as Kirk and Sean.

When she got out of the car, she grabbed Kirk's collar. "Kirk, I'm warning you.

Even if you're SY Group's president, I won't have mercy on you." Kirk, who was about to shake Gwen off, narrowed his eyes. He exuded a dangerous vibe.

"Who told you I'm SY Group's president?" "So you're really Eddy's second uncle! Kirk, you know how much Carol hates the Morrisons. She doesn't want anything to do with them, and yet, you still lied to her. You're so cruel!" Kirk shook off Gwen and strode toward the treatment room. Gwen wanted to catch up to him, but Sean stopped her.

"Sean!" Gwen said with gritted teeth, "Get the hell out of my way!" "Calm down, Gwen! Kirk didn't mean to deceive Caroline!" "Didn't mean to, you say all because of him that Carol's going for shock therapy.

There's nothing to explain.

"Sean, I'm warning you. If you stop me again, we won't have any ties with each other. We won't contact each other again!"

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 761-Gwen regretted her words after she said them. Unfortunately, she couldn't take back her words. Having no other choice, she looked at Sean resolutely.

"So..." Sean narrowed his eyes and repeated, "If I don't let you pass, you'll end our relationship. Is that right?" "Yes," Gwen said tremblingly.

"So our bond is just that weak." Sean smiled wryly.

"After you went through so much, I thought you would never part ways with me, even if you never thought about being with me for the rest of your life." Gwen clenched her fists. "I'm not talking about this right now. Get out of the way.

I can't let Kirk go in there!" She wouldn't let Kirk hurt Caroline.

“Okay.” Sean took a deep breath, willing himself to calm down.

Then, he slowly said, “Okay, let’s not talk about us. Instead, we’ll talk about Kirk and Caroline.

“You and I clearly know how well he treats her. When they first got married, Kirk didn’t even know that Caroline was Eddy’s fiancée.

“But later on, he found out about it and noticed how much Caroline hated the Morrisons. So he tried every means possible to hide his identity just to stay by her side.

“If you think Kirk will hurt Caroline, go ahead and stop him.” After speaking, Sean made way for Gwen.

At this point, Gwen had finally calmed down. She looked at the empty corridor and was silent for a moment.

Then, she squatted down with a scoff.

4 “Oh, life really knows how to screw with someone. Carol has never lived a good life because she has been bound to the Morrisons since birth.

“She finally got married and managed to get rid of the shackles binding her to them. There’s no way she would have expected her husband to be from that very same family.” A trace of pain appeared in Sean’s eyes. As he watched how fragile Gwen looked right now, he held back his sadness and didn’t hug her.

1/2 Meanwhile, the rumbling sounds in the treatment room disappeared with a snap.

Caroline, who was in massive pain, relaxed her eyebrows. Cold sweat no longer appeared on her face.

Michael was startled when he saw Kirk show up all of a sudden. Just as he was about to say something, Kirk pushed him away.

When Michael saw Kirk trying to take away the equipment from Caroline’s body, he said anxiously, “Kirk! The madam has fallen into a deep sleep.

“If you rashly yank away the wires and force her awake, there’s no telling what will happen.” Kirk clenched his fists. He turned around and stared at Michael menacingly.

“Who asked you to do shock therapy on her?” Michael’s back was covered in sweat. “T-The madam strongly urged me to do it.

“Kirk, I know you’re angry, but that won’t solve anything. It may also expose the madam to more danger.” When Michael mentioned Caroline, Kirk regained some composure.

He gritted his teeth and asked, “What should we do now?” “Right now...” Michael had the urge to dig a hole in the ground and escape.

“There are two ways to go about this. The first way is to continue the shock therapy...” The temperature inside the room dropped rapidly at his words. It felt as if they were in the icy mountains.

Michael quickly continued, “T-The other way is to hypnotize her. We’ll keep hypnotizing her and make her forget everything that has happened.” “Everything...” Kirk clenched his fists harder.

Michael was frightened at the sight. Fortunately, Sean and Gwen arrived.

As if he found a savior, Michael moved behind Sean. “Dr. Yates,” Sean only needed to take a look to understand the situation. He asked Michael, “How long do we have to decide?” “Five minutes at most. Any longer than that, and the madam might be in danger.” Sean nodded. “You should leave first. We’ll let you know of our decision in five minutes

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 762-Michael quickly left the room.

After he did, Sean couldn’t afford to waste any time. “Kirk, you have to make a decision. You can either let Caroline suffer in pain or ... let her forget about you.” Gwen held her breath, looking at Kirk nervously. At this moment, she didn’t know what choice Kirk would make.

If he truly loved Caroline, whatever decision he made would be painful for him.

Time passed, and Gwen felt as if a century had passed.

She heard Kirk's voice, filled with pain. "Get her to... forget about me." After saying that, Kirk visibly became haggard.

Gwen felt a little distressed at the sight. She frowned.

After a while, she couldn't help but ask, "Is there really no other choice?" Her voice was shaky.

Sean looked at her. "Since he made his decision, we'll leave the room." Gwen looked reluctantly at Caroline, who was lying on the bed. She took a while to leave the consultation room.

Just as she was about to turn around and take one last look at Caroline, the door closed behind her.

Gwen asked nervously, "What is Kirk doing?" Sean glanced at his friend through the glass. "Don't worry. He just wants to say goodbye to Caroline." When Gwen heard that, her chest tightened.

In the consultation room, Kirk took Caroline's hand. He placed it carefully on his palm and stroked her hand slowly.

As time passed, he felt his chest ache in pain.

"Darling, you'll definitely remember me, right? I believe in you," he said, putting Caroline's hand on his cheek.

He carefully gripped her hand to let her feel his soft skin.

Seemingly feeling something in her sleep, Caroline furrowed her brows again.

1/2 Five minutes quickly passed, and Michael walked back into the room.

Looking at Kirk, who was reluctant to leave, he reminded, "Kirk, it's time for you to leave." After taking one last look at Caroline, Kirk hid the redness in his eyes and looked up at Michael.

"I'm leaving her in your hands. If anything happens to her, you'll join her in the afterlife!" "Got it," Michael replied.

Then, Kirk slowly walked out of the treatment room. It was clearly a short distance, but he seemed to have used all his energy to walk.

When he walked out of the door, his legs turned to jelly, and he almost fell.

Fortunately, Sean noticed him and quickly grabbed him.

The door to the treatment room closed, and everyone outside the door remained silent.

After waiting for what seemed to be a lifetime, the door opened again.

Then, Michael left the treatment room and took off his mask.

For once, he didn't know if he should give the good news or the bad news.

"The treatment was successful, but I can't guarantee how much she can still remember. We can only find out when we do some tests after she wakes up.

"But there's one thing I'm sure of. She has definitely forgotten about Mr.

Morrison Senior's death." "Does that mean..." Gwen secretly glanced at Kirk hopefully. "She might remember what happened before he died?"

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 763-Michael said, "I'm not sure at the moment. We can only find out when the madam wakes up." And so, the clinic fell into dead silence. After a long wait, Caroline finally woke up.

Michael blocked everyone who walked forward. "You're awake." Caroline looked at her surroundings in confusion. Then, her eyes focused on Gwen. "Gwen?" Gwen was delighted. "Carol, you still remember me?" "Gwen, what are you talking about? Also, where am I? What am I doing here?" Gwen glanced at Sean. Then, she turned around and asked cautiously, "Carol, do you really not remember anything?" Caroline cowered and held Gwen's hand nervously.

"Gwen, who are these two people? Are they your new friends?" One of them had such a scary look in his eyes. His gaze was so intense ... Gwen looked back at Kirk. "Carol, you forgot that he's ..." Michael grabbed Gwen from behind. "Ms. Jameson." He shook his head, signaling Gwen to stop talking.

“Ms. Evans, please rest here for a while. We’ll come in later.” Upon hearing this, Caroline grabbed Gwen uneasily and looked at Kirk in fear.

Kirk felt like the air had been knocked out of him when he saw her frightened gaze.

Gwen also glanced at Kirk, feeling a little distressed. That bastard had lied to Caroline, but... “Let’s go.” Sean touched Gwen’s arm, snapped her out of her thoughts.

As the two walked to the door, they noticed that Kirk was still standing there.

Sean had no choice but to pull him away. “Let’s go.” When Sean saw Caroline’s fearful gaze as she looked at Kirk, not to mention Kirk’s own expression, it made him feel uncomfortable as an outsider.

After forcefully pulling Kirk out of the room, he closed the door.

When they reached the end of the corridor, Michael said, “Judging from the current situation, Ms. Evans 1/2 Gwen was shocked. “Then... is she just going to forget about this? She won’t be able to recall her lost memories?” Michael explained, “It seems that this is the only option at the moment. We’ll keep observing Ms. Evans’ condition to see if there are any changes. We can make timely adjustments based on how she’s doing.” After that, he looked at Kirk. “You must remember that you can’t show up in front of Ms. Evans...” After a pause, he continued, “After spending some time with you two, I noticed that you two have a strong bond. You do a lot for each other.

“That very bond will stimulate Ms. Evans’ memories. If you keep showing up before her, I’m worried that ...” Kirk breathed, but he felt discomfort in his lungs. He pushed the feeling away and nodded silently.

Sean felt even more uncomfortable to see his friend like this. In the past, he had always advised Kirk to calm down for Caroline’s sake. But now, he wanted Kirk to let his emotions out.

“Then, should we leave?” Sean asked Michael.

After Michael nodded, he took Kirk away. Strangely, Kirk seemed as light as a balloon. He didn’t have any strength at all.

It wasn't until they left the clinic that Sean discovered that Kirk's eyes were empty, like a person whose soul had been taken away.

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 764-Kirk had never been like this before. Even when Finn had stabbed him in the back and he had had to shoulder the burden of the entire family, he had never been this depressed.

Before this, Sean had thought Kirk had finally come alive after meeting Caroline.

Only now did he feel that Kirk was a human being capable of showing vulnerability.

He stood silently for a while with Kirk and then said feebly, "Let's go." Kirk turned around silently and glanced in the direction of the clinic. "You can leave for now. I want to wait for her to leave." "But..." Sean drew a deep breath.

"I'll wait here with you." Kirk said nothing in response and turned back to the car. Seeing this, Sean followed him and sat in the passenger seat.

Meanwhile, in the clinic, Gwen drew on what she remembered from the novels she usually read to deceive Caroline.

"So I'm here because I was in a car accident and lost my memory? Is that why you brought me to a psychiatrist?" "Yeah." Gwen stared at Caroline nervously. At this moment, she could finally understand why Kirk had lied to Caroline.

Caroline wasn't suspicious at all. "What about the person who caused the accident?" "Oh, it's been taken care of. You don't have to worry about it anymore. Let's go home." Caroline looked at the clinic's equipment, feeling strange. However, she couldn't describe exactly what she was feeling or why.

"What's wrong?" "Oh, nothing." Caroline shook her head. Then, she asked, "Who were those two people just now? Are they your friends?" Gwen replied, "Yeah." "But I feel like one of them was staring at me so intensely, like I had borrowed money and not paid him back. Do I owe him money?" 1/2 Gwen blinked, almost shedding tears. "No, he's always like that." She hurriedly turned around and walked to the door. "Shall we go?" "Okay." As Caroline got up from the bed, she felt a sharp pain welling in her chest. The pain made her take several deep breaths.

Gwen turned around nervously and walked over. "Carol ..." "I'm fine..." Caroline massaged her forehead. When the lingering pain passed, she let out a long sigh and said, "Let's go." "Are you sure you can do it?" Gwen asked worriedly.

"Yeah." Caroline got out of bed by holding the armrest. "See? I told you I could." Gwen saw her friend's familiar smile, and for a moment, she didn't know whether Caroline losing her memories was a good or bad thing.

The two of them walked to the door side by side. Halfway through, Caroline stopped walking and asked, "Does Eddy know that I was admitted here?" Gwen's heart dropped when she heard her question. Forgetting Michael's reminder, she said recklessly, "Have you forgotten? You and Eddy had a falling out a long time ago. You don't like him anymore-" After saying that, she quickly covered her mouth, realizing her mistake.

Caroline slowly widened her eyes. The fear in her eyes made Gwen's heart bleed. "Carol, I-" Caroline could no longer hear what Gwen was saying. She held her head tightly and collapsed to the ground in pain. "No-"

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 765-Gwen immediately panicked. "Dr. Caldwell! Dr. Caldwell!" Michael rushed over after hearing Gwen's yells. After seeing Caroline's state, he could guess what had happened. He took out a small medicine bottle from his pocket.

Then, he took out a small pill and put it in Caroline's mouth. After that, he asked some people to place Caroline on the hospital bed.

Gwen looked at Caroline's pale face and asked anxiously, "Dr. Caldwell, is Carol all right?" Michael asked sternly, "Did you say anything to her?" Gwen answered guiltily, "Just now, I forgot your instructions and told her about her ex-fiance, but I only said one sentence..." Michael chided, "Didn't I already tell-" When Michael saw Gwen lower her head, he knew she felt bad. He softened his tone. "I know that, as a layman, you don't understand Ms. Evans' current situation. You can consider what happened just now as a reminder." He continued, "Remember, she has missing memories right now. How much she remembers depends entirely on the fragmented memories she currently possesses.

“She’ll have a stress response when she sees or hears things that are different from what she remembers.” “I understand.” This time, Gwen drilled it into her head.

“All right. Ms. Evans will wake up soon. I have some matters to attend to now.” As soon as Michael left, Kirk and Sean came in.

“What happened to Caroline?” Sean asked in surprise when he saw Caroline lying on the bed.

“I’m sorry.” Gwen’s tears fell down her cheeks.

“What on earth happened?” Sean held Kirk back.

“Calm down and explain it to us.” “J-Just now, I mentioned Eddy to Carol. A-And she passed out from the pain...” Gwen boldly looked up at Kirk, who was seeing red. “Kirk, I know you really hate me. Go ahead and hit me.

It’s all my fault. I shouldn’t have mentioned Eddy...” Kirk was on the verge of going berserk. He would have hit Gwen with his fist if Sean hadn’t used all his strength to hold him back.

“Enough!” Sean firmly threw Kirk’s hand away and stood in front of Gwen.

“Kirk, I know you’re devastated, but Gwen didn’t do it intentionally. Everyone here is as worried about Caroline as you are. Gwen isn’t having a better time than you.” Kirk was breathing heavily like a beast, but he remained silent. He looked terrifying and dangerous.

Sean could only continue talking. “You’ve seen what happened. Caroline ended up like this because Gwen mentioned Eddy. If we don’t leave, aren’t you afraid she’ll get triggered again when she sees us?” Sean’s words were like sharp needles piercing Kirk’s chest. After a brief but painful struggle, Kirk relaxed his clenched fists. He told Gwen to take good care of Caroline and hurriedly left.

Seeing this, Sean quickly comforted Gwen. “Don’t blame yourself. You didn’t do it on purpose. I’ll go and check on him ...” After saying that, he remembered that he and Gwen were still fighting. He wanted to say something, but for a moment, he couldn’t find the words. So he simply left.

As Gwen watched Sean leave, she felt a strange feeling in her chest. She felt like she was a boat lost at sea that had finally found its anchor.

Caroline woke up about an hour later.

Gwen was worried that she would trigger her by saying the wrong things. So this time, she didn't say anything. Instead, she silently led Caroline out of the room.

Caroline didn't seem to remember what had happened just now. "Gwen, why do I remember walking this way before?"

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 766-Caroline stood at the clinic's entrance and pointed at the long corridor.

Gwen was on the verge of crying again. "Well, let's go." She took Caroline's hand.

Caroline looked at Gwen suspiciously and followed her into the car. Along the way, she felt a pair of eyes watching her. She tugged Gwen's arm and asked, "Gwen, do you feel like someone is spying on us?" Gwen immediately thought that it might be Kirk. It made sense. Of course he wouldn't leave just like that. Even if Michael told him that he couldn't let Caroline see him, he would find another way.

"I don't think so. You must be overthinking things. Let me take you back to my place for now." "Huh? Why are we going back to your home?" Caroline was puzzled.

"I haven't been home for so many days. Wouldn't my parents be worried?" Gwen was about to snap again, but she held back this time. "I already told them you would be staying at my place for a while.

"Besides, your parents don't know about your car accident yet. If you go home right now, they'll definitely be suspicious. Don't you think so?" Caroline thought about it and felt that Gwen made sense. "All right. Sorry to bother you again, Gwen." "Friends like us don't have to say that anymore." Gwen grinned at Caroline and drove slowly to her home. Although she drove very slowly, her car quickly disappeared from Kirk's sight.

Sean looked at the car's tail lights and asked, "Should we follow them?" Kirk pinched the bridge of his nose. After a while, he raised his head and spat, "No." Sean hesitated to say anything in response. Was Kirk worried about being discovered if he followed them?

Sean sighed at the powerlessness Kirk felt. He was so close, and yet he couldn't do anything.

More than an hour later, the footage of the incident at the clinic was sent to Avery.

After Avery finished watching the video on her laptop, Finn crossed his legs and smirked under his mask. "How about it? Are you satisfied with this outcome?" Avery already had a wide grin on her face. "Absolutely. But I'm curious about something. What did you do to fan the flames and cause this?" 1/2 Finn smiled slightly. "Would you believe me if I said I didn't do anything?" Avery retorted, "What do think?" you Finn chuckled. "As expected of the woman I like. You're both cold and clever.

You're right.

He uncrossed his legs. "I did pull some tricks. For example, I instigated that Howard guy to barge into Caroline's home with a gun and also helped Caroline's cousin get to the venue.

"But that's not important. So no one will notice my role in this, including my oh so-smart little brother. Besides, he may never find out since he's totally focused on Caroline now." Avery's expression turned cold at his words.

Finn noticed the change in her expression, but he continued, "Oh, Avery. It's not too late to change your mind. I'm better for you than Kirk. After all, we're equally cruel and ruthless."

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 767-"Don't compare yourself to me." Avery stood up.

"I'll definitely get married to Kirk." That had been her dream since she was young.

Finn lifted his head. "Although Caroline has lost her memories, I still think that there's no way you can get married to Kirk," he said while staring into her eyes.

Avery's expression darkened in an instant. "Who's side are you on? Me or Caroline?" Finn recalled the information he had read about Caroline. He maintained a half-smile on his face. "That's a very good question." A while later, he raised an eyebrow at Avery. "But I never take sides. I stand by facts." Avery snorted and clenched one of her hands into fists. Looking at Finn, she smiled evilly. "Let me tell you something. I'll definitely get married to Kirk. That's a fact!" After saying that, she turned around and left.

Finn raised his eyebrows while looking at her leaving figure. "Is that so? Let's wait and see," he mumbled to himself.

Before going home, Gwen had informed her mother about Caroline's situation.

Thus, her mother only said.

hello to Caroline before heading upstairs.

Caroline asked, "Is Mrs. Jameson not happy that I'm here?" "It's nothing like that." Gwen dragged Caroline to the second floor. "I've already prepared a room for you. You just need to stay here for now. Don't go out. You can let me know if you have anything you need." "When can I go out, then? I ... want... to see Eddy." Gwen blinked. "Once you adjust to living without your memories, you can go out by yourself," she replied, holding herself back from saying what was on her mind.

"Okay." Caroline nodded and obediently went upstairs.

In the room, Caroline took her phone out once Gwen had left. Since her phone had been reset, she 1/2 Left with no way to reach him, she could only fiddle with her phone.

When she snapped out of her daze, she realized she had unknowingly keyed in a phone number. She wondered if it was Eddy's phone number.

She tried to call the number.

At that moment, Kirk was on the way back home. When he saw the caller ID on his phone, he thought there was something wrong with his eyes.

Sean also saw the caller ID as well. "Are you going to take it?" he asked while glancing at Kirk.

Just as Sean finished speaking, Kirk accepted the call.

When Sean saw Kirk's trembling fingers, he knew what was going on.

Caroline's cautious voice sounded from the other end of the phone. "Hello. Is this Eddy?" Kirk's breath hitched.

Caroline lowered her gaze in disappointment when she didn't hear a reply.

It seemed that it was the wrong number. She had already lost her memories. So there was no way she could still remember Eddy's number.

"I'm sorry. I must have gotten the wrong number." "There's no need to apologize." Kirk realized how hoarse his voice was when he spoke.

"You're such a nice person," Caroline replied with a smile.

"I didn't expect the call to go through when I just randomly typed in the number. I still need to apologize to you, though." Kirk furrowed his eyebrows, trying hard to suppress his tears. "That means it's meant to be. Perhaps ... we can save each other's number?" "Sure. Wait-what's your name?" For some reason, Caroline agreed. Plus, her heart pounded when she heard this man's voice, She didn't know why.

"You can call me Mr. Y. What do you think of this name?"

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 768-Caroline smiled softly.

"That's nice. Then, you can call me Ms. Y." "Ms. Y." Kirk's deep voice was like fine wine when he spoke, making one feel drunk on it. Caroline felt herself getting enthralled by him.

"You have a nice voice." Just like that, the duo started chatting.

When Caroline came to her senses, two hours had already passed.

"How weird. Although we're speaking for the first time, I feel like I've known you for a long time." Caroline lay on her bed. "Let me tell you a secret. I've just lost my memories. I'm not sure if you ... Well, you definitely wouldn't know.

Losing your memories isn't pleasant." Her heart was empty, and she didn't know what she wanted to do.

"Is it like suddenly losing your sense of direction when walking on the streets?

You just forget where you want to go." Upon hearing him accurately describe her situation, Caroline instantly felt like she had found a kindred spirit. "That's right! You really understand me well. It feels like we've known each other for a long time," she exclaimed.

After saying that, Caroline waited for a long time. However, she didn't get a response.

She bit her lips uneasily. "... Did I say something wrong?" After all, they were still complete strangers.

Her question made it seem like she wanted something more.

"Nope." The voice on the other end became even hoarse. 1 "You can call me whenever you want in the future." "Really?" Caroline was excited.

"Yes." "Okay." The duo talked a bit more before Caroline hung up the phone reluctantly.

1.2 On the other end of the line, Kirk also put his phone down silently.

Although Kirk was trying hard to hide it, Sean still saw his reddened eyes.

"I didn't expect that Caroline would still remember your phone number after forgetting everything." Sean sighed. "Believe me, she'll gradually remember her past. Plus, she'll also recover from the pain of losing Mr. Morrison Senior." Kirk stayed silent. The veins bulging on his arms were enough of a response.

Meanwhile, Layla was as haggard as a homeless person after camping out at the entrance of Morrison Manor. She finally managed to stop Eddy at the gate.

"Ed!" Eddy was shocked when he saw Layla. "Who are you?" He couldn't even recognize her at first glance.

"It's me, Layla!" Layla was so frantic that she wanted to hug him.

Eddy was so scared that he took several steps backward.

“Don’t come over!” Eddy scooped up the shear in the yard and pointed it toward her. “I won’t go easy on you if you come over.

Layla couldn’t believe it. “Ed, didn’t you know? Caroline isn’t my uncle’s daughter!” Eddy furrowed his eyebrows in disgust.

“Layla, this is enough. You’re just spouting nonsense to get Collins Group. Do you think you can change the fact that Caroline is Mr. Evan’s daughter just with your words?” “You’re misunderstanding me. Caroline really isn’t my uncle’s daughter. You can go and investigate it if you don’t believe me.” Eddy moved the shear closer to her. “Layla, let me give you another warning. If you still don’t leave, don’t blame me for being impolite.” Layla’s gaze darkened when she heard that.- “Ed, you keep saying I’m your lifesaver. Is this how you treat your lifesaver?

Fine. I’ll make you regret it!”

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 769-After Layla said that, she turned and ran away.

Eddy finally flung the shear away after Layla left.

Simon had hurriedly rushed over. “Mr. Eddy, are you okay?” he asked Eddy apologetically.

Eddy shook his head. “I’m fine. Don’t let Layla show up anywhere near me in the future. She’s crazy!” “Of course.” Simon glanced at Eddy’s expression while responding.

After a while, he couldn’t help but ask, “Mr. Eddy, didn’t you go to see Ms. Evans? Did she know that her husband is...” Eddy’s expression darkened even more.

“I don’t know what’s going on right now. However, it seems like Caroline is going to forgive Uncle Kirk.” “Well ...” Simon trailed off.

“What are you going to do next? Unless ... However, Mr. Kirk did lie to you and Mr. Morrison Senior.” Eddy walked toward the study. “I’ll definitely get married to Caroline. I've made a promise to Grandpa, so I definitely won't let him down.

"As for my next step... I'm not sure. It depends on Caroline. It will be less troublesome for me if she decides to divorce Uncle Kirk out of disappointment.

"But she shouldn't blame me for being ruthless if she decides to get together with him." Caroline had to be his!

At night, Gwen's mother returned to her room as usual after dinner. Meanwhile, Gwen took Caroline to do some shopping at a nearby mall., "Look around and see if there's anything you still need." Gwen pushed the cart behind Caroline.

"Let's get everything you want to buy." Caroline smiled. "I don't think it's necessary. You've prepared for me quite thoroughly." "That won't do. Since we're already here, let's buy some snacks." 1/2 "Sure. Let's buy the ones you like first," Caroline replied.

"Hey! We're here to buy the things you need." However, Caroline ignored Gwen and dragged her toward her favorite snack shelf.

Gwen had no choice. She could only buy the snacks that she liked before buying what Caroline liked.

By the time they had finished selecting the snacks, the cart was piled high.

"How nice would it be if a guy accompanied us out?" Caroline remarked casually after seeing the snacks in the cart.

However, a tall figure appeared in her mind.

Immediately, Caroline's smile froze.

Gwen noticed it almost instantly. She looked at Caroline uneasily.

However, Caroline soon returned to normal.

When Gwen saw that, she calmed down but still had mixed feelings. If Kirk saw Caroline right now, he would probably feel even worse.

"Gwen, isn't that Layla?" Caroline suddenly tugged on Gwen's sleeves and asked.

Gwen finally snapped to her senses. “Where?” “There.” Caroline pointed in the direction of the door.

Gwen didn’t manage to see clearly. She only saw a figure hurrying off.

“I’m not sure. But she shouldn’t be here.” “Why?” Caroline asked in confusion.

Looking at Caroline, Gwen thought of Michael’s words.

Thus, Gwen could only simply come up with an excuse. “Because she doesn’t live here.” “True. She should be at the hospital right now.”

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 770-Gwen froze for a moment. This meant that Caroline only remembered that Layla was sick. She had forgotten that the latter was only pretending to be sick.

Similarly, although Caroline remembered Eddy, she had forgotten that he had asked for a kidney in exchange for marriage.

Plus, Caroline had completely forgotten about Kirk.

“Okay. I’m done buying.” When Caroline turned around, she saw Gwen looking at her worriedly.

“Gwen, what’s wrong?” Gwen looked away. “It’s nothing. Is there anything else you want to buy?” “Nope.” Caroline glanced at the cart again.

“Let’s go.” “Okay.” They walked toward the cashier, hand in hand.

Caroline felt that someone was looking at her when they were paying. However, she didn’t notice anyone when she turned around.

She thought she was thinking too much.

The duo walked toward Gwen’s house after exiting the supermarket.

The supermarket was only a ten-minute walking distance from Gwen’s house.

They chatted and walked while carrying the two bags of snacks.

Just as they were about to round a corner, a white car suddenly appeared and sped toward them.

“Watch out!” Realizing that the car was heading toward Caroline, Gwen immediately dropped the snacks in her hand and tried to push her away.

However, it was too late.

The car was already headed right at Caroline.

1/3 At this critical moment, a black car rushed out and forcefully collided with the white car.

The impact pushed the white car back several meters. However, the driver didn't want to give up. After a brief pause, it collided with the other car ruthlessly.

The wind blown up by the cars felt like a sharp blade cutting across Caroline's body.

The two cars were just beside her. Even if they didn't put in much effort, they could easily hurt Caroline now.

“Carrie!” Gwen yelled anxiously while standing aside.

Beads of sweat also flowed down Caroline's forehead.

“Gwen, don't worry about me. You should go further away!” Caroline cupped her hands together and yelled.

However, Gwen couldn't just stand by and watch. She hovered anxiously between the two cars, trying to find a chance to pass through.

However, the two cars were like two crazy animals fighting with each other. One obviously wanted to bring Caroline to safety, while the other wanted to find an opening to take her away.

As the two cars were driving too fast, Caroline was getting dizzy.

She tried to make the first step. However, the white car forced her to back away.

Seeing that there was nowhere to go, Caroline gritted her teeth. Bending down, she was about to remove her high heels and run away.

However, the white car managed to bypass the black car and rush straight toward her.

Caroline didn't manage to dodge in time, and she was violently thrown into the air.

The severe pain turned her world into darkness and silence in an instant.

After witnessing what happened, Gwen felt her heart shatter.

"No!" Gwen rushed toward the pale-faced Caroline and lifted her from the pool of blood.

Sitting in the white car, Layla wasn't satisfied when she saw that. It wasn't enough. Thus, she started the car again and rushed toward Caroline and Gwen.

However, Layla had used up all her luck.

Before she could start her car, the roar from the left side caught her attention.

The black car was like an angry locomotive. It emitted a dazzling yet scary light as it drove right toward her.

Terrified, Layla tried to block the light with her hand. However, she failed to block the car's impact

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 771-The sound of the two cars colliding resonated in the air for a long time.

The next second, Kirk got out of the black car and rushed toward Caroline.

Then, he bent down and scooped her into his arms before heading back to the car.

Gwen finally snapped to her senses and got into the car with Kirk.

The trio soon arrived at the hospital.

After hearing what happened, the doctors rushed over and sent Caroline into the operating room.

Seeing the operating room's door close, Gwen could no longer bear it. As if drained of all her energy, she slumped to the ground.

Meanwhile, Kirk stood there expressionlessly.

"I'm sorry. I wasn't able to protect Caroline." Gwen's tears fell like beads of a broken string when she saw the red indication outside the operating room.

When Gwen thought about Layla being behind this, she wanted to beat the latter up so badly.

Layla was absolutely crazy. Caroline had already lost her memories, yet she still wasn't satisfied.

Kirk stayed silent. He stared at the unusual blob of red on the door with a darkened expression.

However, all he could think about was the scene of Caroline getting thrown into the air.

Kirk's expression darkened.

His veins popped as he clenched his fists.

When Charles and Sean rushed over, they saw Kirk on the brink of insanity.

Sean supported Gwen up from the ground. Then, he went to Kirk's side to stop him. "Kirk." Kirk glanced at Sean sharply.

At that moment, the operation's/door opened, and a doctor walked out.

"The patient is fine. She'll wake up in a while." The doctor walked away after saying that.

When they heard that, the four people in the room relaxed.

1/3 "That's great! What a relief that she's fine." Gwen was so emotional that she started crying.

Soon, a nurse wheeled Caroline out of the room.

Kirk immediately rushed forward. Just as he was about to touch Caroline, he suddenly thought of something and backed away.

While doing so, he almost collided with Sean.

“Kirk, what happened?” “I ... can’t see her.” Kirk furrowed his eyebrows.

Everyone in the room immediately went silent.

“Gwen.” “Yes?” Gwen choked out a response.

“Help me take good care of her. If something happens again... “Don’t worry. I’ll definitely take good care of Carrie.” After getting Gwen’s promise, Kirk strengthened his resolve and left without looking back.

Seeing his retreating figure, Sean turned around to look at Gwen. After telling Gwen to take good care of Caroline, Sean hurried up to Kirk.

Gwen stared at the two figures before turning around helplessly to see Caroline on the bed.

Caroline was quite lucky. Although she had been hit by a car, only her head was injured. Apart from a few scratches on her body, she was completely fine.

The nurse said Caroline could be discharged in a few days if she rested well.

Gwen sent a photo of Caroline lying in the hospital bed to Sean.

Gwen believed that Sean would know what she meant.

After taking the pictures, Gwen got up to get some water for Caroline.

However, she saw Eddy holding a bouquet of roses by the door.

Gwen flared up when she saw Eddy.

Eddy was partly responsible for what happened to Caroline, after all.

“What are you doing here?” Gwen used her body to block the entrance indifferently.

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 772-Eddy looked at Caroline inside the room worriedly. "I rushed over when I heard Caroline was hospitalized.

"Is she okay?" "It's none of your business if she's fine or not. Also, could you please keep an eye on Layla?" "Layla ... I've asked the doctor just now. Layla's never going to wake up again due to her traumatic head injury." Gwen grinned when she heard that. "What good news. Hahaha. Karma is doing its job!" "Although Layla did deserve this, she's already suffering from such a fate ..." "Shut up!" Gwen glared at Eddy.

"How could you say that she's pitiful? She brought it upon herself. The most pitiful one is Carol. She had to pay the price for both of your actions. What did she do wrong? She lost her husband and everything for the sake of both of you!" Eddy allowed her to ruthlessly beat on his chest.

Gwen tired herself out and finally stopped. Then, she clutched her face in agony.

Looking at Gwen, Eddy said sincerely, "Gwen, believe me. I didn't want this to happen. I only want to be with Caroline and complete Grandpa's last wish." When Gwen heard that, she lifted her head to look at him. Her eyes were extremely red.

Gwen grabbed his collar abruptly. "Dying wish. It's your grandfather's dying wish again. Are you saying that Caroline should suffer once more just because your grandfather died?"

"Do you remember how you treated her when she wished to get married to you?"

"Yet, you want to get married to her now for the sake of your grandfather!" "Gwen ..." In the midst of Gwen's anger, the weak voice flowed into her ears like a gentle stream. Gwen quickly turned back to see Caroline, who had awakened on her bed at some point.

"Carol ..." Gwen looked at Caroline uneasily. She wondered how much of their conversation Caroline had listened in 1.

1/3 However, Gwen's attention was placed on Eddy, who was holding the red roses.

“Eddy, are you here to visit me?” she asked carefully.

Gwen was instantly reminded of how petty and selfless Caroline was at Eddy’s beck and call at that time.

Gwen looked at Eddy uneasily.

Eddy also realized Caroline’s abnormal behavior.

Eddy walked up to her. “Yes. Are you okay, Caroline?” “I’m fine.” Caroline turned her attention to the bouquet. “Are the flowers for me too?” “That’s right.” Eddy quickly placed the flowers before her. “Do you like them?” He kept his eyes on Caroline for the entire time.

“Yes. I like it a lot. I think this is the first time you’ve gotten me roses, Eddy.” When Eddy heard that, he looked at Gwen in disbelief.

Gwen had furrowed her eyebrows. Not wanting to witness such a scene, she turned around.

She couldn’t tell the truth to Caroline. However, she wasn’t willing to watch the latter get deceived either.

Gwen could only say helplessly, “Carol, I’m going to step out for a while.” Caroline looked at Gwen’s retreating figure in confusion.

“Caroline.” Eddy blocked her line of sight.

“Are you okay?” He tried to reach out his hand to caress her cheek.

However, Caroline tilted her head just as he was about to touch her face. “Eddy, these flowers are beautiful.” She picked up the bouquet of roses.

Eddy looked at his hand before turning to glance at her.

Caroline’s gaze had been full of disgust when she had look□different now.”

“Caroline, don’t you hate me anymore?” at him before. However, she seemed 2/3 “Hate you? Why would I hate you?” “Because- “Eddy!” Gwen shouted outside the door, interrupting the duo’s conversation.

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 773-Caroline and Eddy looked curiously at Gwen, who was by the door. With a darkened expression, Gwen pointed at Eddy. "Come out for a second." Eddy turned to look at Caroline.

"Since Gwen is calling for you, you should go out with her." "Okay." Since Caroline had put it this way, Eddy could only head out of the ward with Gwen.

The duo walked for quite a while in the corridor. Seeing that Gwen had no plans to stop, Eddy could only ask, "Gwen, what exactly do you want to tell me that you had me come out?" "I think that you've also noticed that Carol ..." Gwen slowly lifted her head. After mustering her strength, she continued, "She lost her memories. She has already forgotten what happened in the past." Eddy was ecstatic when he heard that. It was no wonder that Caroline was treating him so nicely today. It was because she had lost her memories!

"Did she forget about everything? How about Uncle Kirk?" Seeing Eddy so excited, Gwen had a mocking smile on her face. "It seems like you only care about whether Caroline forgot about your second uncle." In other words, she was saying that Eddy didn't care how Caroline had lost her memories.

Eddy lowered his head in shame when Gwen pointed that out.

"I'm not just concerned about whether she has forgotten Uncle Kirk; I'm also concerned about how she lost her memories." "There's no need to be so fake. She indeed forgot about Kirk. Plus, she also doesn't remember that you used a kidney in exchange for marriage. Look..." Gwen looked at the blue sky aggrievedly. "Even God is helping you. This world is truly unfair." Eddy was rendered speechless.

Seeing that he was about to say something, Gwen stopped him. "Enough.

There's no need to make any promises to me.

1/2 "She doesn't recall anything. In other words, you can deceive her for a lifetime if she doesn't remember what you did to her." "I... I never thought of lying to her." "If that's the case, do you dare to tell her that you used a kidney in exchange for marriage?" Gwen stared straight into his eyes and asked.

Eddy immediately lowered his head, not daring to look at Gwen.

Gwen sneered. "See. How could you say you never thought of lying to her?"

You're no different from your second uncle.

"If we have to compare, at least Kirk truly loves Carol. Even if he lied to her, it was because he loved her.

How about you?

"Eddy, ask yourself this question. Do you really want to get together with Carol to fulfill your grandfather's dying wish? Or are you just unwilling to lose to Kirk?"

You want to win against him once again to prove yourself." Eddy was rendered speechless.

Gwen looked at him for a moment before averting her gaze. "Either way, I don't mind. I just want to say that although she doesn't know about your true intentions, I'll be watching you on behalf of her. If you dare to mistreat her..." "Don't worry," Eddy immediately promised.

"I'll treat Caroline right." "If you really can do that, you should take care of Layla first." After saying that, Gwen headed straight to Caroline's ward without waiting for him. When Gwen entered the room, she saw Caroline craning her neck and waiting.

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 774-Upon seeing that, Gwen teased, "What? Are you that scared I'll eat Eddy up?" She smiled.

Caroline smiled, thinking that these words seemed familiar.

However, she didn't remember when Gwen had teased her like that.

Caroline gave up thinking. Instead, she asked, "What did you say to him when you called him out?" "What else? I just told him to treat you well." Gwen walked in front of Caroline and caressed her cheek. "Carol, you need to tell me if he dares to mistreat you." "Caroline looked at Gwen, not knowing what to say.

"What is it?" Caroline asked, "I ... Gwen, why do I feel like Eddy has changed? He never cared about me before, let alone bring me roses.

“But today... Did something happen before I lost my memories? He’s changed so much.” Gwen felt her heart ache when she heard her words. She wanted to tell Caroline about how Eddy had wanted to take her kidney in exchange for marrying her so badly.

However, she didn’t manage to say that out loud.

“Nope. Nothing much happened. I think Eddy’s changed because of your car crash. It probably made him think about how losing you felt. He finally realized how important you are.” Gwen sat down beside Caroline. “Why? Don’t you like the change?” “That’s not it. It’s just that he changed too fast, so I can’t seem to adjust to it at this point.” Gwen smiled with tears in her eyes, “Perhaps you’ll get used to it in a while.” After saying that, she stood up. “I’ll head home now if there’s anything else.” 1 “There’s something else I want, to ask you.” Caroline grabbed Gwen.

“I’ve been meaning to ask you this after waking up for so long. Who’s the person who wanted to kill me, and who’s the one who wished to save me?”

“Is the person who wanted to kill me somehow connected to the person because of whom I lost my 1/2 Gwen looked at Caroline. However, the former couldn’t utter a response.

“What happened? Is this question hard to answer? If that’s the case, can you at least tell me who’s my savior? I want to go and thank the said person.” If it hadn’t been for the person in that black car, Caroline would have been dead right now.

“Carol.” Gwen lowered her gaze.

“Can you stop asking?” “Why...” Looking into Gwen’s eyes, Caroline could only suppress her curiosity. “Okay. I’ll stop asking.” “Carol, I’m not hiding it from you on purpose. It’s just that it’s better for you not to know about it. You’ve already lost your memories. It’s like a fresh start for you.” Caroline pursed her lips. Although she had a lot of questions, she said, “Okay.

I’ll definitely live well.” Gwen sniffled. “Okay. I’ll be heading off, then.” “Okay. I won’t be seeing you off.” Sitting on the bed, Caroline waved goodbye to Gwen.

Eddy only came inside after Gwen left.

“You should move into my house after you get discharged.” Eddy pretended to be casual when he suggested that.

Caroline was just eating an apple at that moment. When she heard that, her apple fell to the ground.

She paused and looked at him in disbelief. “Eddy, do you know what you’re saying?” A smile appeared on Eddy’s face. He reached out and gently stroked her hair, pushing by the strands that had fallen over her forehead.

“I’m saying that you should move into my house after you get discharged.” He looked at Caroline nervously and excitedly.

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 775-Caroline could finally confirm that she had heard it right. But it was weird. She didn’t feel overjoyed at all.

This was supposed to be something that she had been looking forward to the most, after all.

“What’s wrong?” Eddy’s heart leaped to his throat when he saw Caroline keeping silent.

“It’s nothing.” Caroline shook her head.

“Then... Are you willing to go home with me?” Eddy asked again.

Caroline nodded.

However, she didn’t feel happy at all.

Perhaps it was because Eddy had kept rejecting her. Thus, she felt surreal when he finally did as she wished.

However, the feeling didn’t fade, even when she moved into Morrison Manor after getting discharged.

As she lay on the soft bed that Eddy had specially arranged for her, Caroline still couldn’t feel an ounce of happiness.

This was supposed to be the life that she dreamed of.

Caroline suddenly thought of Mr. Y.

She decided to call the number hesitantly.

The call was answered almost immediately. It was as if he had been waiting for her to call.

“Is this Mr. Y?” Caroline hugged her thighs, trying hard to get a little warmth by doing so.

A deep yet powerful voice soon sounded from the end of the line. “Yes.” Although it was just a simple word, Caroline found herself relaxing.

“Do ... Do you have time right now?” Caroline asked carefully. She was scared that she had disturbed him with her sudden call.

“I always have time for you.” His voice was a bit hoarse as he answered.

However, Caroline didn't capture the meaning behind his words. She let out a sigh of relief. “Can I rant about something with you?” 1/2 “Of course, you can.” Hugging her thighs tighter, Caroline realized she didn't know how to start. She finally found the right words after a while. “I'm now living with my fiancé.” Kirk felt as if his heart had been pierced by something sharp.

When he heard Caroline gently continue, he felt his heart get pierced again.

“This is something I've been dreaming of.” This time, the knife had pierced into the depths of his heart. It felt like his heart was bleeding.

“So...” “But I'm not happy at all,” Caroline continued in confusion.

“I thought I would be happy to be with him. After all, this is something I've been looking forward to for eight years.” Kirk's heart was once again resurrected by her words.

“You're confused because you don't know why you're unhappy. Am I right?” “That's right.” Caroline seemed to have found someone who understood her.

“Mr. Y, do you know why? Honestly, do you think I'm someone who plays around and doesn't cherish something after getting it?” “No way,” Kirk immediately denied.

“You’re definitely not someone like that.” He had answered so quickly that Caroline noticed something was off. “Mr. Y?” Kirk seemed very emotional. The way he had stood up to protect her was just like a fan defending their idol.

“Do... Do you know me?” “No. I don’t know you.” His denial came as fast as his defense just now.

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 776-Caroline was quiet. The call went silent for a while.

Soon, Caroline smiled. “Actually, it doesn’t matter if you know me or not. I’ve already lost my memories.” “I think you were someone important to me before I lost my memories.

Otherwise, I wouldn’t have typed your number so easily,” she continued.

Kirk tilted his head against the cold wall. He had so many things that he wanted to say, but he couldn’t.

“Although Gwen didn’t say anything, I can tell that she doesn’t want me to remember the person in my memories. She even refuses to bring up the kind of memories I lost.

“Perhaps she fears that it will worsen my condition. Mr. Y, you’re not going to tell me who you are, are you?

Caroline didn’t expect the other party to give her an answer. “Mr. Y, I’m never going to ask about your identity again. Can you please still accept my call in the future?” Obviously, she couldn’t recall if there was anyone in her life who would ignore her if she asked them about their identity. Still, she felt a burning fear in her heart.

She thought that Mr. Y would refuse to take her call because she had asked such a question.

“Okay. I’ll always take your call,” Kirk answered, clutching his chest where his heart was.

Every single word that Caroline said had been like knives slowly stabbing his heart and torturing him.

“You’re so nice,” Caroline muttered.

The duo fell silent, letting the call continue as the duration on the screen increased.

The warm moment was disrupted when footsteps sounded outside the door.

“Eddy must be back.” Caroline was hesitant. “I need to hang up now.” “Okay.” Although the call had ended, Kirk still felt that there were knives piercing him.

However, there was nothing.

he could do. He could only sit there like a prisoner.

Suddenly, he grabbed the chair beside him and flung it.

1/2 At that moment, his phone rang again.

His darkened orbs lit up instantly. However, they soon turned gloomy when he saw that Bryan was calling, not Caroline.

He picked up the phone indifferently. “Hello.” His voice sounded hostile.

To his surprise, Avery’s voice came from the other end of the line instead of Bryan’s. “I knew that you would definitely refuse to answer if I had called you.

So I could only use my younger brother’s phone.” Avery spoke very fast, afraid that Kirk would hang up without hearing her out.

“Kirk, I already know about what happened to you and Ms. Evans. I can only say that I’m sorry that things turned out this way for both of you.

“But you guys are truly from different worlds. How about taking this opportunity to come back?” “What opportunity?” Kirk asked indifferently.

Avery couldn’t respond to his retort.

Kirk questioned once again, “What opportunity are you talking about?” “I... I don’t have any bad intentions. I just hope you can accept the reality that you and Caroline are not suitable for each other.” “Do we need an outsider to comment on whether we’re suitable?” Kirk’s tone was extremely hostile. “Has everything in the Mendely family been going too well recently?”

You have so much free time on your hands. Are you trying to cause them some trouble?" Avery's expression changed.

Just as she was about to continue, Finn pressed her phone down.

"See. He only has eyes for Caroline. He won't leave her, no matter what happens." Avery gripped her phone, her face contorted with anger. "That's just his wishful thinking!" stubborn?" "I'm not stubborn!" Avery turned around and glared at him. "I will definitely make Kirk give up on her!"

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 777-At Morrison Manor, Caroline looked at the oatmeal in front of her. "Did... you really make this for me?" she asked uncertainly.

She couldn't believe Eddy had actually prepared oatmeal for her. She suspected that she was dreaming. If she was, she sure was extremely daring to think he would do this for her.

She remembered dreaming about Eddy before. But the most she had dreamt of was him not complaining about her cooking.

She didn't dare dream about Eddy making anything for her.

"Of course." Seeing that she seemed to be in disbelief, Eddy felt his heart ache.

"Give it a try. It's my first time making it, so it might not taste very good." Caroline smiled sweetly. "It will definitely taste good since you made it." After saying that, she scooped a bite of it.

As Eddy had overcooked it, the oatmeal burst in her mouth the moment she tasted it. A strange taste lingered in her mouth.

Lowering her head, Caroline didn't look up for a long time.

When Eddy saw that, he quickly gave a tissue to her. "Does it taste bad? Spit it out now." Caroline shook her head. Suddenly, big drops of tears fell down her face.

It wasn't that the oatmeal was too bad.

It had just made her think of something. She felt something stir her heart and couldn't help but feel very uncomfortable.

She felt like someone else had also cooked for her before. But it hadn't been Eddy. Besides, that person's cooking was way better than Eddy's.

Although the person's cooking hadn't been good at first, the food became delicious after a few attempts.

The person's appearance and name were just at the tip of Caroline's tongue.

However, she couldn't remember it.

"Caroline, don't cry. I was wrong. I won't cook for you again. I'll ask the chef to cook for you, okay?" Eddy was flustered when he saw her cry.

1/3 Caroline lifted her head to look at him. "Are you not going to cook for me ever again?" "No way. I won't cook for you again. I'll let the chef make it for you. If you don't like her cooking, I'll order someone else to cook." Caroline blinked her eyes and pursed her lips. "Are you really not going to cook for me again?" she asked again.

"No." Eddy wiped the tears from her face.

"I'm such a bad cook. Since you don't like my cooking, I'll stop cooking again.

Okay?" Caroline lowered her eyes. "Okay." A bitter smile appeared on her face. So he really wasn't the person in her lost memories.

Seeing that Caroline had stopped crying, Eddy signed in relief.

Then, he took out an invitation letter for her. "Caroline, it's the annual gathering of the big four families in two days. Why don't you accompany me there?" Caroline replied, "I'm not eligible to attend, though, right?" The Evans family was no longer one of the big four families. Caroline was worried that she would just embarrass Eddy if she attended an event she wasn't welcome at.

"I forgot that you already don't remember taking over Collins Group." "I took over Collins Group ..." Caroline furrowed her eyebrows. The pain was drilling into her brain.

“When... When did I acquire Collins Group?” Eddy didn’t notice Caroline’s abnormal behavior. “Just recently-” he continued.

Just before he could finish, Caroline dropped the bowl of oatmeal onto the floor with a splat.

“When did I acquire Collins Group?” Caroline yelled at him while holding her head in pain.

Eddy didn’t know what to do.

Suddenly, he thought of Kirk.

However, Eddy soon gave up on that thought.

“Caroline, calm down. There’s nothing like that. No. I was wrong...” Caroline’s head was about to explode. She held her head, only wanting to know how she had taken over. It seemed that she could only feel better if she filled in the empty memories.

“Caroline ...” Eddy had no idea how to console her. “I ... I’ll go and find a doctor for you.”

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 778-After saying that, Eddy ran down the stairs to call his family doctor.

However, the doctor had never seen a patient act like that before. “We need a psychologist,” he declared.

Hence, Eddy went to find a psychologist.

Without proper guidance, Caroline felt like an insect trapped in a huge spider web. She could only struggle desperately within the net.

Pain spread through her, invading each part of her body.

“Ah!” Even though Eddy was downstairs, he could still hear Caroline’s painful and sharp screams.

He covered one ear as he pressed his phone against the other ear. He was on a call with a psychologist.

I need you to come over now!" he said.

After saying that, Eddy threw his phone away in frustration..

When Simon saw that, he walked forward. "Mr. Eddy, should we give Ms. Evans some medicine since she's in so much pain? Perhaps there are other ways to soothe her pain ..." Eddy immediately thought of Kirk.

Eddy yelled, "Why don't you go and treat her since you're so capable?" Simon was stunned. He had no idea why Eddy was so angry.

"Mr. Eddy..." "Enough!" Eddy inhaled deeply. "You should go out." Simon could only leave the room.

After Simon left, Eddy was the only one left in the living room. Caroline's piercing scream reverberated through the room.

Eddy looked up at the second floor.

"If Uncle Kirk were here, he would definitely have a plan. But there's no way he's the only one who knows what to do. I can also take good care of Caroline without him. Yes. I can also do it," Eddy thought.

After convincing himself, Eddy waited for the psychologist to come.

1/2 When the psychologist came to Caroline's room, he was stunned to see an almost maniacal Caroline.

The psychologist only snapped to his senses when Eddy pushed him.

"It's my first time seeing such a patient. Can you briefly describe her condition to me?" "I only know that she lost her memories." The psychologist asked, "Do you know how she lost her memories?" "I don't know." The psychologist was instantly perplexed. "Well, if I can't fully understand the patient's condition, I won't be able to prescribe the right treatment," he replied.

Eddy glared at the psychologist. "I only asked you to come treat her, not to probe into her private affairs." His voice was low and dangerous.

"Mr. Eddy, you've misunderstood me." "I asked you to go treat her!" Eddy pointed at the room where Caroline was, enunciating each word. He resembled a terrifying demon, especially with his veins bulging on his forehead.

Seeing that he wasn't able to convince Eddy, the psychologist walked toward Caroline.

As he didn't know anything about her condition, he didn't know which treatment to use on her. Thus, he could only inject her with a sedative.

Thankfully, Caroline fell asleep after the injection. She didn't suffer from any side effects.

"Mr. Eddy, Ms. Evans is fine now." The psychologist carefully walked over to Eddy.

"I'll... I'll head off first." Eddy looked at the psychologist menacingly. "Fuck off." The psychologist immediately ran off.

Eddy let out a sneer as he watched the psychologist leave. Just as he was about to head upstairs, his phone rang on the table.

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 779-After glancing at it, Eddy noticed it was an unknown number.

He declined the call.

However, the person who had called sent him a message. "Accept my call.

Otherwise, you'll regret it." Seeing the person calling again, Eddy wondered if he should take the call.

Before he realized what was happening, he had already accepted the call.

"Mr. Eddy, I thought you weren't going to answer my call." "Who are you?" The woman on the other line had an arrogant tone. Nobody had dared to use such a tone to speak with Eddy before.

"It doesn't matter who I am. The most important thing is that I can help you solve your problem." Eddy sneered. "How bold of you to try to deceive me. Are you trying to get yourself killed?" The woman let out a snort. "Mr. Eddy, don't you want Caroline to get married to you?" Eddy's expression changed. He lowered his voice. "Who exactly are you?" "Didn't I say that it doesn't matter who I am? The most important thing is that I can make Caroline marry you.” Π “How funny. Who do you think you are? How can you control Caroline?” The woman laughed lowly. “Before this, I wouldn’t be able to give a definite answer. However, Caroline has already lost her memories. Do you think it would be a difficult task for me to make her marry you?” Eddy pressed the edge of the table. “You can really do that?” “Of course,” the woman replied with a smile.

“If that’s the case, what do you want?” Eddy asked.

Just as he was prepared for the woman to ask for something huge, her answer shocked him.

“I don’t want anything.” Still, Eddy didn’t believe in things such as free lunch. “You’re making me suspect your motives.” “I don’t mind telling you. I want you to marry Caroline because I like Kirk. I just want to have him.” 1/2 Eddy sneered. “So that’s your reason. You have it all planned out.” “Same goes for you.” Eddy didn’t say anything else.

Soon, the woman’s voice sounded again. “I’ve already arranged everything. You just need to play it by ear when it comes to it.” “I understand.” “Do you have any more questions?” “No...” Suddenly, Eddy changed his mind.

“How confident are you that Caroline will go along with the plan?” “100%.” “You’re that confident?” Eddy started to feel uneasy. After all, he didn’t dare to be so confident.

The woman on the other end of the line smiled. “Mr. Eddy, have you forgotten that Caroline has lost her memories? She doesn’t remember the things you’ve done to her. She only recalls that she loves you.” Eddy smiled bitterly. He had almost forgotten what Caroline had been like back when she had hung onto his every word.

“Okay. Do you have any more questions?” It was obvious that the woman seemed to be losing her patience.

Eddy shook his head. He didn’t have much to worry about if Caroline was as obedient as she had been back then.

However, the woman at the end of the line couldn’t see Eddy shaking his head.

When she didn't get a reply, she couldn't help but raise her voice. "Do you have any questions?" Eddy finally realized that he hadn't given a verbal response. "No." After hanging up the call, he excitedly went upstairs to Caroline's room.

Through the gap in the door, he saw Caroline lying in bed, !

After she had been injected with a sedative, she was curled up in bed like a weak rabbit. One would want to protect her in their arms when they saw her.

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 780-Eddy tiptoed as he pushed open the door. Then, he walked over to the bed and carefully took Caroline's hand.

"Caroline, I'll definitely protect you in the future." After saying that, he leaned over and was about to kiss her forehead. However, Caroline, who was deep asleep, suddenly opened her eyes.

Eddy was taken aback and almost fell.

Caroline looked at him puzzledly.

"Eddy, what happened to you?" Her voice was weak.

Eddy shook his head and looked at her pale complexion.

"I'm fine. How about you? How are you?" Caroline's head had started buzzing again. She quickly pressed her forehead.

"I'm okay. It's just that my head hurts a lot. What happened just now? You had been saying... that I had taken over something?" "No. You remembered it wrongly." Eddy walked over and sat down beside her. "Caroline, I have something that I want to ask you," he said.

"What's the matter?" Caroline continued rubbing her head.

"Shall we get married?" After saying that, Eddy looked at her anxiously.

Caroline stopped rubbing her head. Then, she slowly lifted her head to look at him. It took a while for her to answer. "Eddy, do you know what you're saying?" "I know." Eddy grabbed her hand excitedly.

“Let’s get married, Caroline!” Caroline tugged her hand back./”Why don’t you calm down?” “Caroline, didn’t you always want us to get married? Why do you look unhappy now that I’ve agreed?” His words struck deep into Caroline’s heart.

1/2 She wasn’t sure why, either. Indeed, she had always wanted to marry him. Plus, she had been waiting for this day for eight years.

But now that he had asked, she wasn’t happy at all.

“Eddy, marriage isn’t a child’s game. You should calm down.” After saying that, Caroline tugged on her blanket. “It’s getting late. You should go back to your room. My head is still ringing, so I need some rest too.” Instead of leaving, Eddy stared at Caroline. “Caroline, did you fall in love with someone else?” he asked.

Caroline’s heart skipped a beat.

A blurry side profile appeared in her mind at this moment.

However, she muttered incoherently, “What are you talking about? How could I possibly change my mind?

If you say such a ridiculous thing again, I’ll get angry!” “Since you don’t like someone else, why aren’t you willing to get married to me?” Eddy persistently asked.

Caroline couldn’t answer. Instead, she turned to look at the ground. “Eddy, don’t force me. I only want to rest right now. I’m begging you not to.” Seeing her pale complexion, Eddy managed to grab ahold of himself.

He stood up slowly. “Okay. I won’t force you. You should get some rest. I’ll head out now.” After the door closed, Caroline slowly lifted her head to look at the door aggrievedly. It was a big mess.

She wondered what had happened.

She had just lost her memories. However, her feelings toward Eddy had completely changed.

She wasn’t as obsessed with him as she had been before. Instead of feeling joy, she felt scared when he had asked her to marry him.

Caroline looked up to see the bright sky outside the window.

Suddenly, she really wanted to know what memories she had lost.

More importantly, she wondered/who the person was who kept appearing in her memories.

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 781-A shadow fell across Eddy's face after he left Caroline's room.

Sure enough, it was the same as before. She resisted him from the bottom of her heart.

Otherwise, she would have happily agreed to marry him since she had forgotten Kirk.

Uncle Kirk. Eddy couldn't stop himself from clenching his fists at the thought of him. Caroline had forgotten all about him. Yet ... Eddy raised his fist and was about to punch a hole in the wall when he spotted a car parked on the ground floor.

The Morrisons had dozens of luxury cars. Naturally, he couldn't recognize all of them, but this one right there... they definitely didn't own a car like this.

The corners of Eddy's mouth tilted upward in a smile, and he gradually made his way downstairs to the car.

When he reached the car, he saw the person inside. It was Kirk, just as he had expected.

"Uncle Kirk!" chirped Eddy as he rapped on the car window.

The window rolled down, and he saw Kirk's bleak face staring back at him.

It was obvious from the bags under Kirk's eyes that he hadn't rested well for a couple of days.

It was Eddy's first time seeing such a dejected and dispirited side of Kirk.

For some reason, a wave of guilt washed over him. It was as if he had stolen a beloved item of Kirk's.

Kirk took a glance at him and continued downing a bottle of wine, his eyes cold.

Eddy watched him gulp down a mouthful of the drink and said, "Uncle Kirk, don't be so upset. Things have only returned to how they were supposed to be now." He added, "Caroline's been my fiancée since the beginning-" He had barely finished his sentence when Kirk yanked his necktie.

The force behind it was so immense that Eddy, who hadn't anticipated the sudden move, stumbled forward, his face just inches/away from Kirk's.

Staring at Kirk's side profile from such a close distance, Eddy subconsciously held his breath in fear.

Uncle Kirk-" 2. 2.

1/2 "Eddy," said Kirk, his piercing eyes staring right into Eddy's like a Grim Reaper's.

"Listen up. I'm only temporarily letting Caroline stay at your place." "One day, she'll remember everything," Kirk said.

"And she'll get over your grandfather's death. By then, she and I will be together again." Eddy exhaled slowly and forced a smile. "How are you so sure that she'll remember all that? What if she doesn't regain those memories for the rest of her life? She'll be with me-" 17 Eddy's words were cut short because his necktie was yanked with such force that he couldn't utter another word.

"U-uncle K-kirk-" "Caroline will remember me!" Kirk narrowed his eyes and glowered at Eddy. It seemed like he was warning Eddy and also as if he was talking to himself.

The suffocating air of doom Kirk emanated snuffed out Eddy's courage to talk back. He didn't have the guts to say more.

"Uncle Kirk ... L-let go of me-" Kirk coolly shoved Eddy away after the latter begged for mercy over and over again.

After steadying himself, Eddy glanced at the second floor where Caroline was staying.

He turned to Kirk and yelled, "Just give up! Caroline will never remember who you are! Besides, she and I are getting married soon!" That said, he darted back into the house, fearing that Kirk would come after him.

Once he reached the door, Eddy even ordered the housekeepers to shut the gates.

To his surprise, Kirk didn't come after him and merely stayed in the same spot.

His posture remained just as before.

It was as if he still hadn't snapped back into reality after hearing those words.

Eddy started questioning if he had gone overboard.

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 782-But the guilt Eddy felt completely vanished when he remembered that Kirk married Caroline and lied to him.

Caroline was supposed to marry Eddy from the very beginning. His attitude toward Kirk turned cold when he was reminded of this.

Kirk had only just snapped out of his daze and started walking toward the gates.

Staring at Eddy through the gates, he enunciated each word as he said, "I dare you to repeat what you just said." Despite the iron gates that separated them, Eddy's still heart skipped a beat when Kirk spoke.

"I said... Caroline and I-" Eddy paled at the sound as Kirk punched the gate with such force that the iron bars became dented.

He didn't have the guts to speak clearly now. All he did was mumble incoherently.

"Why don't you repeat what you said?" Kirk roared at him like an angered beast, his eyes locked on Eddy.

Needless to say, Eddy lost the courage to continue speaking. Looking at the dent in the gates, he feared that his fate would somehow become just like the gate's.

Just then, a crisp voice came from the second floor. "Eddy, what's going on down there? Did you break something?" It was Caroline.

Hastily, Eddy turned to say, "It's nothing. Nothing happened. Don't come down yet." But he was too late because Caroline was already walking down the stairs with her jacket on.

Seeing that nothing had happened in the courtyard, she glanced at Eddy, puzzled.

"What was that sound just now? It was so loud," she said.

Eddy was confused. He followed her gaze only to find out that Kirk, who had been standing by the gates just a moment ago, was nowhere to be seen.

Realization dawned on Eddy when he recalled how Caroline had reacted when he had tried to bring up the past.

A small smile hung on his lips. "It's nothing at all. Nothing's wrong. You should go upstairs and rest." "Are you sure?" Caroline noticed the dent in the gates.

"Why is the gate dented? It looks like some kind of animal did this." "Nah. A helpless and incompetent fool did that," said Eddy.

"Hurry and head upstairs. I'll have someone come and fix this." "Okay then." Taking one last glance at the gate, Caroline felt a strange feeling in her as if she had seen this before.

However, she couldn't remember where she had seen it before, no matter how hard she tried to remember.

Her head started throbbing when she tried to recall the past, so she quickly stopped thinking about it.

After she left, Eddy walked up to the gate and glanced around. Kirk had left indeed.

Scoffing, Eddy said, "Uncle Kirk can't even see Caroline now, so how is she going to remember him?" He had just finished talking when a hand shot out from the darkness, putting him in a chokehold and suffocating him.

His eyes widened in shock and fear as Kirk stepped out from the shadows and came into sight. "You... Didn't you leave?" Kirk's dark and gloomy eyes stared back into his. "I'll be watching you. Always. If you dare to hurt her ..." Kirk's voice trailed off as he tightened his grip, making Eddy struggle for air.

"Y—you needn't say ... I'll take ... good care of her," gasped Eddy, whose legs had turned to jelly.

Only then did Kirk release his grasp of Eddy, and the latter stumbled a couple of steps backward.

When Eddy raised his eyes later, Kirk was nowhere to be found. A shiver ran down his spine as the feeling of him and Caroline being watched by Kirk sank in.

If he so much as tried to hurt Caroline, Kirk would materialize from thin air.

Feeling his hair stand on its ends, Eddy pulled his clothes tighter around him and rushed back into his room.

He had just got into the room when his phone started ringing.

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 783-The phone's ring scared Eddy half to death. He took a furtive glance at the screen to see that the caller was none other than Avery.

He quickly answered the call and vented all his anger on her by lashing out at her.

"Didn't you say that Caroline will definitely marry me after she lost her memories? Why did she resist the idea of marrying me so much when I brought it up to her?" Stunned by Eddy's outburst, Avery took a moment to respond.

She laughed and said, "You're much too impatient. I told you that I have a plan, didn't I?"

“I’m calling you this time to tell you that everything’s prepared.” She continued, “Just take Caroline out tomorrow.” “Are you sure it’ll work?” Avery’s words extinguished Eddy’s flames of rage by a considerable degree, but he still couldn’t stop himself from worrying.

“Worry not. My plan will surely work.” She sounded very certain of herself.

“No woman can resist it.” Despite that, Eddy didn’t believe her.

“Caroline still misses Uncle Kirk even though she’s forgotten all about him. She just doesn’t know that he’s the one she’s missing,” said Eddy.

“Are you sure that I’ll succeed in proposing to her under these circumstances?” Annoyed, Avery snapped, “Do you want to marry her or not?” Eddy didn’t give it a second thought. “Of course, I want to!” “If that’s the case, you should just do what I say and take her out tomorrow.” Avery’s demanding tone made Eddy’s brows crease into a frown, but the thought that he was going marry Caroline soon made him swallow his annoyance. “Okay,” he said.

Now that she had gotten an answer, Avery smiled and hung up. She put her phone down.

Finn, who had been sitting in his armchair all this time, spun around to face her.

1/3 “How did it go? Has Eddy agreed to marry Caroline?” Avery twirled a lock of her hair in one hand and sneered. “He planned to marry her since the very beginning. I’m doing this so that it’s set in stone as soon as possible.” “Do you think Kirk will give up for good when she marries Eddy?” Avery raised her eyes to meet him, her gaze vicious. “I know what you’re trying to tell me.

“I don’t care if Kirk gives up or not. All I want is for Caroline to marry Eddy so that Kirk becomes single again.” “It doesn’t matter if she has a place in Kirk’s heart. It has got nothing to do with me.” She continued, “I’ll make him fall in love with me slowly when he returns later.” “Aren’t you quite the confident one?” Finn said, his voice dripping with sarcasm, but Avery pretended as if she didn’t hear him.

Watching her leave, Finn picked up a pen on the table and toyed with it.

Avery was still young, so she hadn’t been through enough to know that love was the hardest thing to ever change.

Unfortunately for her, she might never ever get to marry Kirk.

Early the next morning, Eddy approached Caroline when she was having breakfast.

“Let’s head outside for a walk.” He seemed pretty pleased with himself when he spoke.

Caroline glanced out the window and saw that it was sunny outside. “Sure. I also want to head outside and take a look.” She had been staying here in the house since she had lost her memories and hadn’t been out much.

“We’ll leave after breakfast then?” Eddy asked, glancing at Caroline. She nodded.

After filling their stomachs, they got into the car and left. Caroline sat in the backseat and asked, “Where are we going?” Eddy looked through the rearview mirror at the driver, who said, “We’re going to Belrene Square, Ms.

Evans.” “Why?” Caroline turned to ask Eddy.

“To grab something to eat,” said the driver.

Caroline stared at Eddy, confused as to why the person who answered her was the driver and not Eddy himself.

It was as if the driver was the one who had planned their schedule that day.

“Yes, we’re going there to eat,” Eddy said, sensing that something was off.

“Okay,” said Caroline.

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 784-Caroline shrank in the seat as her eyes fell on the rows of cars behind them.

The scenery outside looked so familiar yet strange to her somehow.

The buildings looked familiar as if she had seen them all before, but she found it strange because they weren’t similar to the ones in her memories.

They towered over her and seemed even cleaner than what she could recall.

About an hour later, they finally arrived at Belrene Square.

Caroline and Eddy had just gotten out of the car when they heard someone yelling. "Help! Help! There's a robber!" The next second, someone dashed passed Caroline. Before she could react, Eddy had stepped forward and grabbed the robber by the collar.

The robber turned and paled when he saw that it was Eddy who had stopped him. He wanted to flee, but Eddy threw him to the ground with such a force that he fell on all fours.

The handbag flew out of the robber's hands. He lay on the ground, looking all haggard and embarrassed.

Caroline picked up the handbag and handed it over to the lady who had been robbed. "Here. Your bag." The lady turned the bag over and over again to check its condition before turning to face Eddy and Caroline.

"Thank you so much! You two are so kind! I had just bought this, and it would have been gone for good if it hadn't been for the two of you!" After taking a look at the lady standing before her, Caroline glanced at her hand, which was tightly clasped in Eddy's.

Her heart didn't flutter, yet the silhouette of a person popped up in her mind.

She wanted to recall what the person looked like but snapped back to reality when the lady said, "This man is your husband, right? He's a good man. You're so lucky to have someone like him." Caroline simply stared at the lady, who had stars in her eyes. Despite the lady's words, Caroline didn't feel happy or proud at all.

"Thank you," she said curtly.

Soon, the cops arrived. After the robber was arrested, the lady left too.

1/2 "Let's head inside," said Eddy as he looked at Caroline with a smile.

He now understood that the lady just now had merely been trying to make him seem like a hero in front of – Caroline. It was quite the trick, but he wasn't sure if she would buy it.

His eyes were still locked on Caroline to see her reaction. To his dismay, she showed no sign of admiration for him.

“Okay,” she replied. Instead of bringing up the incident that happened just a moment ago, she simply followed him to the restaurant they were headed for.

That made Eddy rather dejected.

When they arrived at the restaurant, Caroline noticed that they were the only people there with the exception of the staff.

“Have we ... come to the wrong place?” she asked.

Seeing how deserted the Fathom restaurant was, she couldn't help but take a step back in alarm.

A waiter hurriedly came to her and said, “You're Ms. Evans, right? You aren't mistaken. Mr. Eddy rented out the entire place.” Puzzled, Caroline turned to Eddy. “Eddy, did you rent the entire restaurant?” “Um, yes,” Eddy muttered.

“Let's go.” They had just stepped into the restaurant when they were showered with flower petals at the door.

“How romantic!” Caroline gleefully reached out to grab some of the petals and placed them in her palm.

“Eddy, did you set this up on purpose?” Eddy wanted to say “yes”, but when faced with her smile, he couldn't find it in himself to lie to her. “No, I-”

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 785-Caroline stared back at Eddy, her pretty eyes sparkling just like the stars at night.

Frowning, Eddy made up his mind and was determined to selfishly keep this beautiful light of hers all to himself.

“Yes, I did,” he said.

“Do you like it?” “Did you come up with this idea? You're so creative! I ...” 11 Caroline lowered her eyes, embarrassed. “I like it very much.” “Great!” exclaimed Eddy. The uneasiness he had felt earlier vanished completely at the sight of her blushing face.

“Look-” Eddy grabbed her arm. Following his gaze, she looked up to see balloons in the air. There were words on them.

She read aloud the words on the balloons, “Caroline ... will... you ... marry ... me?” Just then, Eddy got down on one knee, took out a huge diamond ring, and presented it to her.

“Caroline, I know that I’ve made lots of stupid mistakes in the past. I’ve let you down,” he said.

“But I know that I was wrong now. So can you give me another chance and let me make up for them?” He glanced up at her, his eyes earnest and pleading. Caroline was almost moved by the sincerity in his eyes.

“Give me a chance. Give us a chance,” he said.

“I’ll take good care of you for the rest of our lives. Please believe in me.” He inched forward, closing in the distance between them.

Caroline looked down at him. Her heart wavered, and her eyes betrayed what she felt inside.

“Can I really trust you, Eddy?” There was a voice deep inside her heart calling out to her. Why did it keep on telling her that she couldn’t trust him?

Still, the look in Eddy’s eyes was so sincere. Looking at him now would make just about anyone believe 1/2 “Of course. Of course, you can believe me, Caroline,” he told her.

“I used to be such a jerk, but I’ve changed after everything that I’ve been through. To me, you are the most important person in the world. I can’t lose you.” He spoke from the heart. Needless to say, his words were convincing.

Hesitating, Caroline reached out a hand. Eddy seized the chance and took hold of her hand.

She tried pulling back her hand for a while but to no avail. A strange feeling started seeping out from the bottom of her heart.

When she finally snapped back into reality, she realized that the ring was already on her finger.

“Caroline.” Eddy was smiling at her.

“You’ve made a promise to me now. You can’t go back on your word.” Staring at the ring, Caroline couldn’t feel the slightest bit of joy in her heart. She pulled her hand from his grasp.

“Are you regretting it?” Eddy asked, anxious.

Caroline shook her head. “No. I’ve put on the ring, so I’m agreeing to it.” She wasn’t sure why, but she wasn’t happy in the least.

It seemed to her that the ring was more like a shackle that weighed her down than a symbol of happiness and joy.

“That’s great.” Eddy let out a sigh of relief. Apparently, Avery’s plan was actually a good one.

It was just like what she had told him on the phone. No woman could withstand it when the hero saved the damsel in distress.

“Let’s post about this.” “Why should we?” asked Caroline./ “I’m afraid that you’ll run away,” Eddy said half-jokingly.

“Why would I?” she asked. She had no plans for the future since she had just lost her memories, so where else could she go?

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 786-“Come here.” Eddy didn’t care if Caroline agreed to it or not anymore.

He simply took out his phone and took a shot of her wearing the ring and uploaded it on social media.

Even after uploading the photo, he still thought it wasn’t enough. He contacted some reporters in the entertainment industry so that the photo made the headlines.

In just a few hours, the news of them getting married became a hot topic. It came as quite a shock to the many gossipers in the entertainment section.

“What’s going on? Doesn’t Eddy like Layla? Why is he marrying Caroline?”
“I’m flabbergasted. Everyone says that the entertainment industry is a hellhole.

Why does it seem like the filthy rich are even more chaotic?” “Isn’t Caroline married already?” “Breaking news: Layla’s in a coma now.” “What? What just happened? Wasn’t she just fine a few days ago? How did she become like this?” “I’m not sure, but I heard that she got into an accident. Nobody knows for sure what happened to her.” “Fuck. The social circle of the rich is truly a horrible mess.” Despite the comments stating that the whole thing was messed up, there were still lots of people who gave Caroline and Eddy their blessings.

“She’s a princess, and he’s a knight in shining armor. I think they’re a match made in heaven.” “Yeah! Mr. Morrison Senior had wanted Caroline and Eddy to get engaged back then. Everything just got back on track.” “Caroline’s a much better match for Eddy compared to that scheming Layla.” The news stirred up such a commotion that Gwen and Cheryl heard of it without even needing to go online.

Cheryl couldn’t stand it anymore, so she sent a message in the group chat. “Kirk sees all of this, right?” Gwen had filled Cheryl and Sonia in about how Caroline had lost her memories, so all of them had learned of Kirk’s true identity.

Sonia replied, “Of course, he does. He watches her every move. How could he not know about this?” 1/2 “Then…” Cheryl was at a loss for words, and Sonia fell silent too.

Eventually, it was Gwen who broke the silence. “I’m not worried about Kirk. It’s Carol I’m worried about.”– “I’m sure she didn’t do it on her own accord. It’s just that she has lost her memories.” Gwen continued, “She must have agreed to marry Eddy in a daze.” “What can we do to help her then?” Cheryl asked.

“Nothing will work unless we tell Caroline the truth,” stated Sonia.

“But Dr. Caldwell said that we can’t tell her what happened in the past. If we tell her about the past, it’ll only trigger her.” She carried on, “All we can do is wait for her to regain her memories and become her former self.” “That’s right. I know that you’re anxious and that you want to help Carol and Kirk.” Gwen was typing now.

“But don’t forget that it will only make Carol suffer if we tell her about the past.

Gwen had witnessed firsthand how Caroline reacted when that had happened.

“Okay,” replied a helpless Cheryl.

Later, the group chat gradually returned to its former tranquility.

Picking up her phone again, Gwen’s finger hovered above Sean’s profile picture.

11 She hadn’t spoken to him since their fight at the clinic. Even now, she still felt conflicted.

She understood why Kirk had lied to Caroline, but she couldn’t forgive him for doing so.

Caroline was her best friend, after all. The issue here was that Sean had taken part in this too.

It reminded her of her father, and it sent a shiver down her spine. Her parents’ relationship had started falling into ruin after her father had lied to her mom.

He had told her that he had to work overtime when in truth, he had been having affairs with other women.

Gwen lowered her eyes to look at Sean’s profile picture on the screen. She hesitated, failing to find the courage to tap their chat

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 787-It was at this moment that Gwen’s phone started ringing. She froze when she saw that it was Sean who was calling her.

She couldn’t believe her eyes. How did he know that she had been about to call him? In her daze, she missed the call.

A wave of panic washed over her. She hesitated, wondering if she should call him back. Just then, her phone rang once again.

Sean was calling her again. Her heart swarmed with relief. This time, she no longer hesitated. She quickly answered the call.

However, she regretted her decision the moment the call went through.

“Gwen.” It was obvious from his tone that Sean hadn’t expected her to answer the phone.

He was still in a daze as he realized that his call hadn’t gone unanswered.

“Yes?” said Gwen.

“Did you want to say something?” “You…” Sean inhaled sharply.

“I-I want to apologize to you. I didn’t mean to snap at you when we were at the clinic that day.” Gwen straightened her back, stunned at his words.

“Kirk lied to Caroline. He’s at fault, and I joined hands with him to lie to you two.

I was wrong,” he said.

“That day-” “It’s not your fault.” Gwen interrupted him.

“You weren’t wrong… under such circumstances at least.” She continued, “Thank goodness Kirk went in that day. Otherwise, I would have hated myself for the rest of my life.” Sean fell silent for a long time afterward, and Gwen’s other hand subconsciously went to her phone so.

that both her hands were gripping it now.

“What’s wrong? Did I say something wrong?” 1/3 “No…” Sean finally came back to his senses.

“I… I thought that you were still mad at me. I never thought that you would-” “What now?” Gwen pursed her lips.

“You didn’t think that I was reasonable enough to think things through, huh?” “I didn’t say that,” Sean told her.

“You said it yourself.” “You meant that, obviously.” Scoffing, Gwen stood up and walked to the balcony.

Her tone turned lighter when she spoke again. “How’s Kirk? He must have seen the news about Carol and Eddy’s engagement by now.” “Yeah.” Sean sounded grim.

“He’s probably at the boxing gym right now.” Gwen sighed. “How did things come to this? Do you think it’s a good thing that Carol lost her memories now?” Sean couldn’t answer. “Based on our understanding of her, she would surely marry Eddy out of spite after finding out that Kirk lied to her.

“We anticipated this, after all. At least she doesn’t know that Kirk lied to her for now.” He continued, “In a way, it seems to be a good thing.” Gwen smiled wryly, but it didn’t reach her eyes. It was as though her eyes had lost its luster.

“Do you think Carol will remember Kirk in the future then?” Sean couldn’t give her an answer. They both fell silent as they stared up at the night sky.

A while later, Sean broke the silence. “Gwen, can we get back together?” He subconsciously held his breath after posing the question.

With her phone in one hand, Gwen quirked an eyebrow.

A moment of silence passed, and she said, “Sean, you have to be frank with me. Is there anything else, that you’re hiding from me apart from Kirk’s identity?” “No! I have absolutely nothing to hide from you!” Gwen stroked her chin. “Are you sure?”

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 788-“It’s true! I swear I’m telling you the truth!” Gwen burst out laughing. “You’d better be! God will surely find lots of ways to punish you if you hide something from me.” “I have nothing to hide,” said Sean.

He wished he could just pluck his heart out and give it to Gwen. “I swear to God!” “Fine then. I believe you since you’ve never lied to me.”.

Sean could finally relax now. “Then we’ll-” “Let’s not talk about us,” Gwen stopped him.

“We should be talking about Carol and Krik now.” She sat on a chair and asked, “Can’t we do anything at all? Should we really just watch Carol marry Eddy?” “Michael said that Caroline should regain her memories on her own,” Sean replied.

“All we can do is wait.” “I really hope she can get back her memories,” said Gwen.

All of a sudden, something popped up in her mind. "Oh right! Will she be able to get over Mr. Morrison Senior's death if she regains her memories?" Sean couldn't answer that.

"I still don't think it's right to make her lose her memories. But that was the only choice at that time." "Yeah, you're right..." Gwen mumbled. The future was uncertain, and they could only take one step at a time.

After they hung up, Gwen received a call from Caroline.

"Gwen, you've got to help me." Caroline's voice was hushed as if she were hiding away in a corner.

If Gwen had guessed it right, Caroline was probably in the washroom right now.

After agreeing to marry Eddy, Caroline had started feeling restless and uneasy.

She had ended up making up an excuse to go to the washroom to call Gwen..

1/2 "What's wrong, Carol?" Gwen's voice was laced with concern.

"I ..." Caroline couldn't stop herself from feeling annoyed as she stared at the ring on her finger.

"Gwen, can you tell me what I've forgotten?"

"Why don't I feel happy in the least when Eddy proposed to me?"

"And why do I feel like I've done something wrong? Why do I feel this way, Gwen?" Gwen sighed. "Carol, you've got to calm down. Let me ask you something. Do you want to marry Eddy?" Caroline sat on the toilet. "I'm not sure. This should have been what I've been longing for. Since I was 16 years old, everybody has been telling me that I will marry Eddy one day." "But why don't I feel happy in the least after wearing the ring he gave me?" She added, "I'm thinking that this has something to do with the memories I've lost."

"Yeah," Gwen said, helpless.

"Don't think about the past yet. Think carefully, do you want to marry Eddy?"

"Can I remember everything when I've thought this through?" asked Caroline.

“Gwen, I really want to get back all those memories. Right now, I feel like ... I don't know where I came from.” And it was precisely because of this that Caroline didn't know where she was headed in life. Maybe she wouldn't be so clueless if she got her memories back.

“Listen to me, Carol. Those memories aren't important to you,” Gwen tried to convince her.

“What's important is for you to decide whether you want to spend the rest of your life with Eddy. Do you get it?” “Stop thinking about the past,” said Gwen.

“Let bygones be bygones. What you should be focusing on is the future.” Caroline lowered her eyes. She wanted to focus on the future, but she had no clue about her past. How was she supposed to plan her future then?

She wasn't even sure if she wanted to marry Eddy or not.

Bogus Billionaire By Shining Riviera Chapter 789-Just then, someone knocked on the door.

“Excuse me, is someone in there?” Caroline glanced at the door and caught a glimpse of the pair of shoes under the door.

“Yeah.” “You're Ms. Evans, right? Your fiancé said that you've been in here for quite some time already. He asked me to check if you're okay,” the woman said.

“Are you okay? Do you need help?” Caroline didn't respond. Gwen heard the woman's voice on the phone and smiled helplessly. “You should head back.” “I know,” said Caroline.

“Just remember what I told you. Don't think about anything else, okay?” “Okay,” Caroline replied, her tone meek.

After hanging up, she opened the door to see a kind-looking old lady standing by the door.

“Hello.” The lady greeted Caroline with a smile.

Caroline greeted the lady out of common courtesy. She hasn't expected this to be the start of a very long conversation with the lady, who couldn't stop complimenting Eddy as she grabbed Caroline's arm and led her out of the washroom.

"It's my first time seeing such a young man care so much for his fiancée," said the lady.

"You didn't see how impatient he was when he stood by the door yet couldn't come in here just now.

"Youngsters these days are totally different now." The lady sighed. "How interesting." Caroline tossed her a smile as the lady carried on talking. "Your fiancé doesn't seem like the expressive type, right?" Caroline raised her eyes to look at the lady, who smiled and chuckled.

"Don't look at me like that. I've been through more than you could ever imagine, so I'm usually right when it comes to people." 1/2 "Your fiancé seems like the person who would keep an eye out for you all the time despite being a man of few words." She then added, "You're lucky to have him." "Really?" Caroline lowered head. She disagreed with the lady.

Caroline's gut told her that Eddy wasn't the kind of person the lady had just described. Besides, she had seen what people who gave silently were truly like.

It sounded like she was roasting the lady when that thought occurred to her. All of a sudden, the silhouette of a person flashed through her mind.

"Oh my! Did I make you upset?" the lady asked when she noticed that Caroline had been quiet for some time.

"I should have held my tongue." TI Caroline shook her head. "No, you didn't. Thank you for telling me all of this." After making sure that Caroline wasn't displeased, the lady beamed. "Thank goodness! You should go out and meet your fiancé. He's getting anxious." "Okay." Caroline nodded and left the washroom.

She saw Eddy standing by the door, waiting for her. The lady had said lots of nice things about Eddy just now.

But when Caroline saw him at this very moment, memories of the past came flowing back to her like water from a bursting dam.

She remembered the time she had prepared some broth for Eddy and how she had waited patiently for hours just so that the broth would taste better. She also remembered how he had knocked over the bowl of broth that she had even placed before him.

There were also the times when he had thrown away all the gifts she had specially prepared for him for his birthday.

Was he truly just incapable of expressing himself?

Caroline approached him, her mind bursting at its seams with questions.

“Are you okay? You were gone for quite some time,” Eddy asked in concern