

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea Novel Online

Chapter 952

Andrius had been studying medicine for many years, but he had never encountered such a mysterious situation.

After a few minutes, he felt that he could not identify the issue and reluctantly withdrew his hand.

He asked Luna beside him, "When did her condition start?"

Luna shook her head, indicating that she did not know.

"Ugh..."

At that moment, Halle's eyes slowly opened. When she saw Andrius beside her, a flash of joy lit up in her eyes.

"Halle!"

"You're awake..."

The two spoke at the same time.

"Yeah." Halle nodded with difficulty and said slowly, "When I was at the Western border, I led medical personnel from the hospital to visit the injured soldiers.

"Along the way, we came across an old man who had fainted on the ground and decided to rescue him

"The old man was very grateful and took out a fresh fruit from his pocket and gave it to me, saying it was the best fruit in the mountains. He insisted I accepted.

"Out of politeness, I took it. However, after eating the fruit, I felt a chilling cold in my stomach. At that time, I didn't think much of it and just drank a few cups of warm water.

"Then, on that same night, my whole body started to feel freezing cold, and it has continued until now..

An old man?

Fresh fruit?

Andrius immediately asked, "Halle, do you remember what the old man looked like?

"Can you describe the appearance of the fruit you ate?" Luna also looked on with curiosity.

Halle thought about it and replied, "That old man... looked ordinary, but his eyes were very clear compared to an average elderly person. Also, his hands didn't look as withered as those of regular old people."

Wrinkles did not just form when people aged. Their eyes also gradually become cloudy, and the skin on their body dries to varying degrees. Only individuals with powerful strength would appear as Halle's description. Andrius' heart trembled. It seemed that the old man was suspicious "As for the fruit..." Halle thought for a moment and continued, "It was about the size of an egg. It was entirely bright red, shaped like a pear, and tasted crisp, sweet, and refreshing. It was also very juicy and delicious."

After saying that, she closed her eyes. Speaking so much at once was extremely exhausting, so she needed some rest.

Andrius fell into silence.

Chapt

Based on Halle's brief descriptions, he could not deduce the source of the problem.

Who was that old man?

What was that fruit?

Andrius thought for a moment and sighed. "I'll prescribe you some medicine to control the drop in your body temperature as much as possible, or it'll be dangerous for you."

Halle slowly opened her eyes and smiled at him in response.

Andrius' heart ached.

Halle had always been so lively, but now she was suffering like this. However, Andrius, a self-proclaimed doctor, could not even figure out the cause of her illness. It was truly embarrassing.

After leaving the room, Andrius called Kate.

"Kate, I have a question. My friend ate a fresh fruit, and her whole body turned ice-cold. Her blood vessels seem to be freezing up..."

Andrius described the fruit and Halle's condition in detail and asked, "Your grandfather is very knowledgeable. Can you help me ask him if he has ever come across a situation like this?"
