Married At First Sight Chapter 2749-Donald: Hayden is my daughter. What I want is a son-in-law, not a daughter-in-law.

Naturally, Donald would not give hope to those rich ladies and make those rich ladies feel that taking the “in-laws” route is unworkable.

Kevin took the elevator and went straight to the top floor.

As soon as he exited the elevator on the top floor, he noticed Hayden sending a client over and several young women following. Seeing that they were wearing professional suits, they should be the client’s secretaries.

The client didn’t know Kevin, and Kevin didn’t know him either.

In order not to disturb Hayden, Kevin stepped aside silently.

Hayden personally escorted the client downstairs.

Kevin was already familiar with Hayden’s office and lounge. After the group entered the elevator, he walked to Hayden’s office and pushed in the door.

After entering the office, he prepared a cup of coffee for himself. As soon as he sat down on the sofa, Hayden came back.

“How did it go last night?” Hayden walked towards him and asked in a low voice.

“The family of the bodyguard of the Farrell family who died in place of Sister Liberty came to take care of the funeral arrangements. The Farrell family will compensate his family, and the insurance company will also pay a sum of money. All the bodyguards in the Farrell family have purchased high-cost insurance.

I’ll tell Sister Liberty later that we’ll go over there in the afternoon and take a look. Even if it’s a victim of the Farrell family’s conspiracy, on the surface, we’re going to see the bodyguard’s family and give him some money.”

At present, the car accident is tentatively determined to be accidental.

In the absence of enough evidence to prove that it was the Farrell family who took the initiative, they had to do enough to avoid being blamed.

The dead bodyguard of the Farrell family could only admit that he was unlucky because his boss, Matriarch Farrell, was so cruel.

The first time she invited Liberty to her house for dinner, she wanted to kill her.

If Liberty hadn't been so defensive and used the excuse that she was drunk and couldn't drive, Liberty, Jim, and others would have died.

“Um.”

Hayden hummed. After she sat down, she suddenly leaned into Kevin's ear and whispered, “I heard that Holden committed suicide. That old couple are both cruel people.

However, for men who are capable of cheating, they will no longer think about cheating after they have committed.”

Her eyes glanced downward.

Kevin crossed his legs with a smile on his handsome face. “Hayden, don't worry; I will never cheat. As long as you marry me, I will be absolutely loyal to you. All the men in our York family will be loyal to marriage, loyal to love, and loyal to family.”

Hayden laughed twice. “Don't all you men like to say this before getting married? After getting married, many of them have broken the promises they made when they got married.

Kevin, I quite agree with what Mrs. Farrell did this time. If you dare to cheat in the future, you will either get divorced or become an eunuch.”

Kevin looked serious and said seriously, “Hayden, I won't have to choose between the two.”

Hayden reached out and touched his face. She rarely made such intimate gestures.

“I still believe you.” Hayden said in a low voice, and she kissed Kevin on the face.

When Hayden wanted to pull away, Kevin hugged her and immediately kissed her on the lips.

After a lingering kiss, Hayden's breath was a little unsteady, so she pushed him away, quickly stood up, and sat down on the single sofa.

Hayden asked, “Sister Liberty, is she okay?”
