

Read Married At First Sight Chapter 2785

Married At First Sight Chapter 2785-“Surely Hank is still thinking about you in his heart.” Duncan said.

He didn't mind Hank speaking ill of him in front of Sonny.

Hank always said that the more Sonny disliked him, the deeper the relationship between Duncan and Sonny.

Duncan understood that Sonny was very kind to him every time he came back from Brown's house.

Sonny probably felt sorry for him.

Because Hank said bad things about him.

“He lost love for me a long time ago. If he had love, he would not betray me or hurt me, nor would he let his family bully me during the marriage. If a man really loves a woman, how could he be willing to let her be bullied? Even if there is a conflict between mother-in-law and daughter-in-law, he will find a way to solve the problem instead of letting his parents and sisters blame her.

He is just unbalanced in his heart. Just like I said about them at the beginning, if Hank and Jessica lived happily, without so many things happening, and neither of them lost their jobs, they would live happily and wait for a new life. When life is born, how can I care whether I live or die?

My feelings for Sonny will fade away because they have a love affair. Hank's feelings for Sonny have never been deep. He has never taken care of his son. How many feelings can he have?”

Duncan thought for a while and hummed.

Duncan said, “Let's not talk about those people and things that make people feel bad. I will go back to Wiltspoon tomorrow. Liberty, please accompany me to buy some new clothes and toys for Sonny. Please help me to choose toys that he likes. Every time I give them to him, he doesn't seem to like them.”

Liberty didn't want to talk about her ex-husband all the time. Even though she had already faced everything calmly, she was still worried that Duncan would be jealous when she mentioned her ex-husband in front of him.

After the car accident, Duncan became much more vulnerable. Mainly due to the disability of his legs, he lost his self-confidence, which made him vulnerable.

Liberty was very careful when dealing with him, for fear of hurting his self-esteem.

“Sonny has a lot of new clothes, many of which he hasn’t worn yet. Children grow up quickly, so they don’t need to buy too many new clothes. They grow up before they can wear them, and he has no younger siblings to pick them up.”

Liberty hadn’t bought new clothes for Sonny for a long time.

There was no need for her to buy them. With so many people doting on Sonny, the most important things Sonny needed were clothes, shoes, and toys.

Even the school bags had dozens of new ones.

As soon as they enter kindergarten, some new schoolbags will be given to this one and some new schoolbags to that one.

Liberty felt that Sonny had so many things that he could open a store.

“I didn’t tell Sonny, but I came over to see you. Sonny was already angry. If I don’t bring him some gifts back, he will be even more angry. Let’s buy a larger size so that he can still wear it next year.”

Liberty smiled and said, “That’s up to you.”

The two of them went shopping all night. They originally agreed to buy only two sets of clothes and two toys, but when they returned to the hotel, they were packed with big and small bags.

Back in the room, Duncan took pictures of tonight’s results and sent them to Zachary so that Zachary could show them to Sonny.

After Zachary received the photo from Duncan, he replied with a voice message: “Sonny went to bed. He has to go to kindergarten tomorrow. I will show it to him when he gets up tomorrow.”

Duncan said, "Forget it; I will go back tomorrow. When I go back, I will pick him up from kindergarten and show him again to give him a surprise."

Zachary smiled. "Okay, will you be back tomorrow?"

Married At First Sight Chapter 2786-Duncan hurried to Jensburg and stayed in Jensburg for one night.

"Well, I'm going back tomorrow. Liberty is also busy. I can't take up too much of Liberty's time. I should go back and take good care of Sonny so that Liberty doesn't have to worry about anything. He can help Sonny and me in Jensburg, haha."

At the end of the sentence, Duncan laughed.

Liberty heard it from the side and said funnyly, "What I'm most afraid of is that I will be in debt in the end."

Duncan said domineeringly, "What are you afraid of? I'm here. As long as you don't owe hundreds of billions of dollars in debt, I can help you pay them off. You can go ahead and go for it. If the sky falls, I will support you. Don't worry about losing money. Don't worry about the deep debt."

Liberty: "..."

Hundreds of billions in debt?

She couldn't even think about it.

Judging from her current wealth, even if she owes tens of millions of dollars in debt, her hair will turn gray.

Zachary sent another voice message: "My sister has you as her backing. She has no worries. She will definitely be able to conquer the world in Jensburg."

Duncan played it to Liberty and said to her, "Listen, your brother-in-law is full of confidence in you."

Liberty said, "You always trust me so much. I have to work harder to live up to your expectations."

Duncan said, “Don’t be tired. When you encounter a problem, remember to ask me for help as soon as possible. Although my legs are disabled, my brain is not disabled. I can still help you solve the problem.”

Liberty didn’t like to hear him say, ‘My legs were disabled.’ She said, “Your legs will get better. I don’t like to hear you say that you are disabled. You are not allowed to say it in the future. I am still waiting for you to stand up again and marry me.”

Duncan smiled happily. “With your words, I will definitely get better.”

Liberty’s face turned red, and she said a little embarrassedly, “Don’t chat with Zachary for too long. Go to bed early. I’ve also gone back to my room to rest. I still have to run company matters tomorrow. “

“Well, go ahead and have a good night.”

Duncan said, touching his face and signaling for Liberty to give him a goodnight kiss.

Liberty came closer, bent down, and kissed the scarred side of his face.

After the kiss, she gently touched the scar on his face. The scar on his face alarmed both mother and son when they first saw him, but because she was a mother and had to protect her son, she showed no fear of him.

At the time, she thought he was a gangster who looked vicious when he was angry.

Mainly because she accidentally collided with his car. She was frightened when she saw the tall and powerful man who got out of the car with scars on his face. The car she collided with was a luxury car. She thought it would cost her everything.

In the end, she only lost nearly $10,000.

Later, she found out that it was her brother-in-law who told Duncan that Duncan knew that she was Zachary’s eldest sister, so Duncan didn’t let her pay the full compensation.

“Did it hurt at that time?” Liberty asked him gently.

Duncan grabbed her hand, pressed it on his face for a moment, then pulled her hand down and said, "Pain is pain. It's a profound lesson, and it reminds me all the time that the person who loves me the most, Grandma, passed away because of an unfilial grandson, which made her elderly family worried and aggravated her condition.

My mother always advised me to have plastic surgery to remove this scar. Sonny was very afraid of me at that time, so I wanted to go and have it removed. But thinking about my grandma, I decided not to do it.

I'm sorry for my grandma."

When it came to grandma, Duncan's mood was low.

He regretted his impulsive, ignorant, and rebellious youth.