Married At First Sight Chapter 2739-Kathryn said magnanimously, “Just change your words in front of my mom. Mom is still angry.”

With that said, Kathryn walked outside the house.

The Butler followed her and asked as he walked: “Miss, I would like to take the liberty to ask, What did Mr. Janzen and Shiloh do last night? Madam was so angry that he drove Shiloh away. Mr. Janzen was sent to the hospital again, right? Didn’t Shiloh hurt Mr. Janzen?”

The Butler was not a Butler before, but he has been working in the Farrell family for a long time. It can be said that he came in after Matriarch Farrell came to power and has been working until now. He knew the affairs of Matriarch Farrell and Holden. If Shiloh hurt Holden, Matriarch Farrell would definitely be angry.

Kathryn: “Butler, don’t ask about things that my mom doesn’t want you to know. Knowing too much will not be good for you.”

The Butler smiled sarcastically: “Miss, Thank you for the reminder, you said. Miss, go for a run. I’m going to the kitchen to see how the breakfast is being made. I guarantee you’ll have a hot breakfast when you return from your morning run.”

He stopped at the door of the house and watched Kathryn walk away before turning back to the house.

Kathryn first warmed up in the yard, jogged twice, and then walked to the gate of the villa.

The door was still locked.

Kathryn had the key, and she used it to open the lock.

Shiloh, who was nestled in the corner, was awakened when she heard the sound of the door opening.

She looked up and saw that the door of the villa was open. She immediately stood up. She didn’t know whether it was because she was tired or because she was wearing too many clothes. It was difficult for her to stand up; she even staggered a few times when walking and fell to the ground.

This pounce also landed at Kathryn’s feet, as if she were bowing down to Kathryn.

Kathryn stopped and looked at Shiloh condescendingly.

Shiloh struggled to sit up. When she looked up and saw Kathryn, her face turned pale. The next moment, she wanted to find a hole to crawl into.

Apart from two trays of plants at the door of the villa, there was no place to hide, let alone a hole to crawl into.

Kathryn just watched Shiloh's panic leisurely.

She remembered that when she first returned to Farrell's house, Shiloh often watched her be embarrassed as if she were watching a show. The person who made her feel embarrassed was still Shiloh.

She didn't want the people in the Farrell family to know that she had her own career, so when she first came back, she pretended to be a fool and acted like a country bumpkin, entering the city so vividly that everyone thought she was a ball of mud that couldn't hold up the wall.

"There is no need to look for a hole in the ground. There is no hole to drill here." Kathryn said calmly, "I don't have time to see you in despair."

After saying that, Kathryn walked away calmly and soon started jogging.

Shiloh watched her walk away and wanted to curse. She opened her mouth, but her voice was hoarse. She also felt that her throat hurt. Maybe she hurt her throat from crying and hissing too much last night.

It could also be a cold.

After all, she spent the night outside. The wind was strong, and the temperature was low in the second half of the night, making her freeze to death.

Fortunately, all her clothes were thrown out. She wore a lot of clothes and wrapped her legs in clothes to survive the cold night.

Shiloh glared at Kathryn's retreating back hatefully.

She squatted down again in the corner of the doorway, picked up a piece of clothing, and covered her legs, looking at the Farrell family mansion and crying.

Just thinking about what happened last night made her miserable.

Did Hayden know about her and Holden?

Hayden must have known.

At this moment, Shiloh realized that she really had no chance with Hayden.

In the past, she was still the successor of the Farrell family, and she was always greeted when she came out. She was a well-known member of the young generation in Jensburg, but Hayden never looked at her, let alone talked to her.

It's just that she loved him blindly. In fact, she also knew that she had no chance.

No matter if it is before, now, or in the future,
