

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2582-A terrifying energy was being unleashed and was on the verge of breaking free.

There was a loud bang.

Boom!

The egg, bigger than a planet, exploded immediately.

A red light shone across the entire level 8 civilization.

Fortunately, there was no life here.

Otherwise, it would have ended in destruction.

This could be regarded as a devastating blow.

The surviving two Lv 6s Robotias also perished in the big explosion, unable to fight back.

Their bodies, which they were so proud of, were completely melted.

The explosion lasted for a while.

A black dot appeared in the middle of the red light.

As the black spot grew larger, anything it came into contact with was absorbed.

Even the red light around it was not spared.

It was so loud that parts of Leila closest to it also heard the sound.

It was like a clap of thunder.

All the creatures looked up to the sky. As far as they could see, half the sky was dyed blood red.

Fortunately, a substantial isolation zone separated the two civilizations, preventing them from being affected by the explosion.

Time passed by slowly.

One day, two days, one month, two months.

In the blink of an eye, half a year had passed.

The black hole created by the massive explosion did not disappear; instead, it continued to grow larger and larger.

It had swallowed up one-tenth of the space of level 8 civilization.

How big was a level 8 civilization?

It was hard to imagine how a black hole could reach one-tenth the size of a level 8 civilization and still expand.

It was extremely terrifying.

Even an Overlord would tremble if they saw such a big black hole.

If it was capable of causing such destruction, one could only imagine how terrible the explosion would have been.

Mother had swallowed up many civilizations, so all of the energy it had accumulated was concentrated.

Therefore, the destructive power of the detonation was absolutely unprecedented.

Even a Heavenly Overlord could not unleash such a powerful attack.
Only the great Almighty could.

At the edge of the black hole, a figure suddenly appeared.
This figure was not wearing any clothes. His body was riddled with holes and scars.
Even various organs inside his body were visible.
His body's continuous healing was also blocked by another energy.
The injuries he suffered would have been fatal to creatures below Overlord Realm.
However, that person was fine.
Apart from his dispirited energy, his vital signs were good and he was not on the brink of death.

It was Lufian who was at the epicenter of the massive explosion.
After coming out, Lufian kept panting heavily.
By this time, he had woken up from his berzerk state.
He was horrified as he looked back at the giant black hole that was still expanding behind him.
It was also the first time Lufian had experienced this.
He originally thought he could move unhindered across the universe after stepping into Heavenly Overlord Rank.
Unexpectedly, before he could even do that, he encountered the most difficult battle in his life.
Mother finally detonated the extremely rich energy in the dome, and the explosion it produced was too powerful.
In addition, Lufian was in the center of the explosion and seriously injured by the great Almighty's treasure.
He almost died then.
Fortunately, the furious Lufian immediately tore apart space and went into twelve-dimensional space.
Even so, he was still seriously injured.
Now that Lufian's energy had plunged beneath Overlord Realm, it would take a long time for him to recover.
After turning his head, Lufian turned into a ray of light and disappeared.
